... the events that made '55 a year to remember

Bound here in this book is Denfeld's year of 1954-55. This year has been one of fun and frolic, work and opportunity for you, the students of Denfeld High School. Through the things that have marked '55, sophomores and juniors, as well as seniors, have acquired many unforgettable memories of the place—Denfeld—the people—your classmates and the administration—and the events of this year.

Denfeld is what its people have made it. Members of the faculty have come to be known as friends as they taught, guided, and counseled. Fellow students have also shown their talents and abilities and established themselves as future leaders. The officers of the many organizations have helped to see their clubs through a success-filled year for all. Every student has become well established as a part of Denfeld's people.

Club activities of '55 will also remain in many memories. The Boys' Union added to the social life and entertainment of each Denfeld boy. From the stag to the spring style show the year has proved outstanding. Making a tour of the cities of the world were the girls of Denfeld, members of the Girls' Club. The full calendar of this club made its season an enjoyable one. The Power Club marked another year of pep and spirit to back each athletic team. Governing Denfeld through the school year was the Pyramid. They have kept this hall of learning running smoothly.

Literary and speech groups have also celebrated a year of progress. The Criterion staff has succeeded to "Keep Denfeld on the Map" for another year, and the Oracle has recorded each event of 1955 so it may live on for many years to come. Bringing home four trophies was the Denfeld debate squad. The speech groups have sent eight on to the regional competition.

Musical groups have filled 1955 with song, playing and singing for concerts, assemblies, meetings, and around the city. The A Cappella choir traveled to Minneapolis, and the band and orchestra, to Rice Lake, Wisconsin. The operetta, "Sweethearts," by Victor Herbert, could be rated a scintillating performance with its colorful choruses and their gay costumes. Both the music and art departments helped to produce this operetta.

Filling the social calendar were the three class plays. The Senior Class play, "Wizard of Oz," headed the drama season. "A Double Barreled Detective Story," was presented as the Junior Class play. Last on the program came the sophomores with their play, "Father Knows Best." Both actors and viewers will long remember these events.

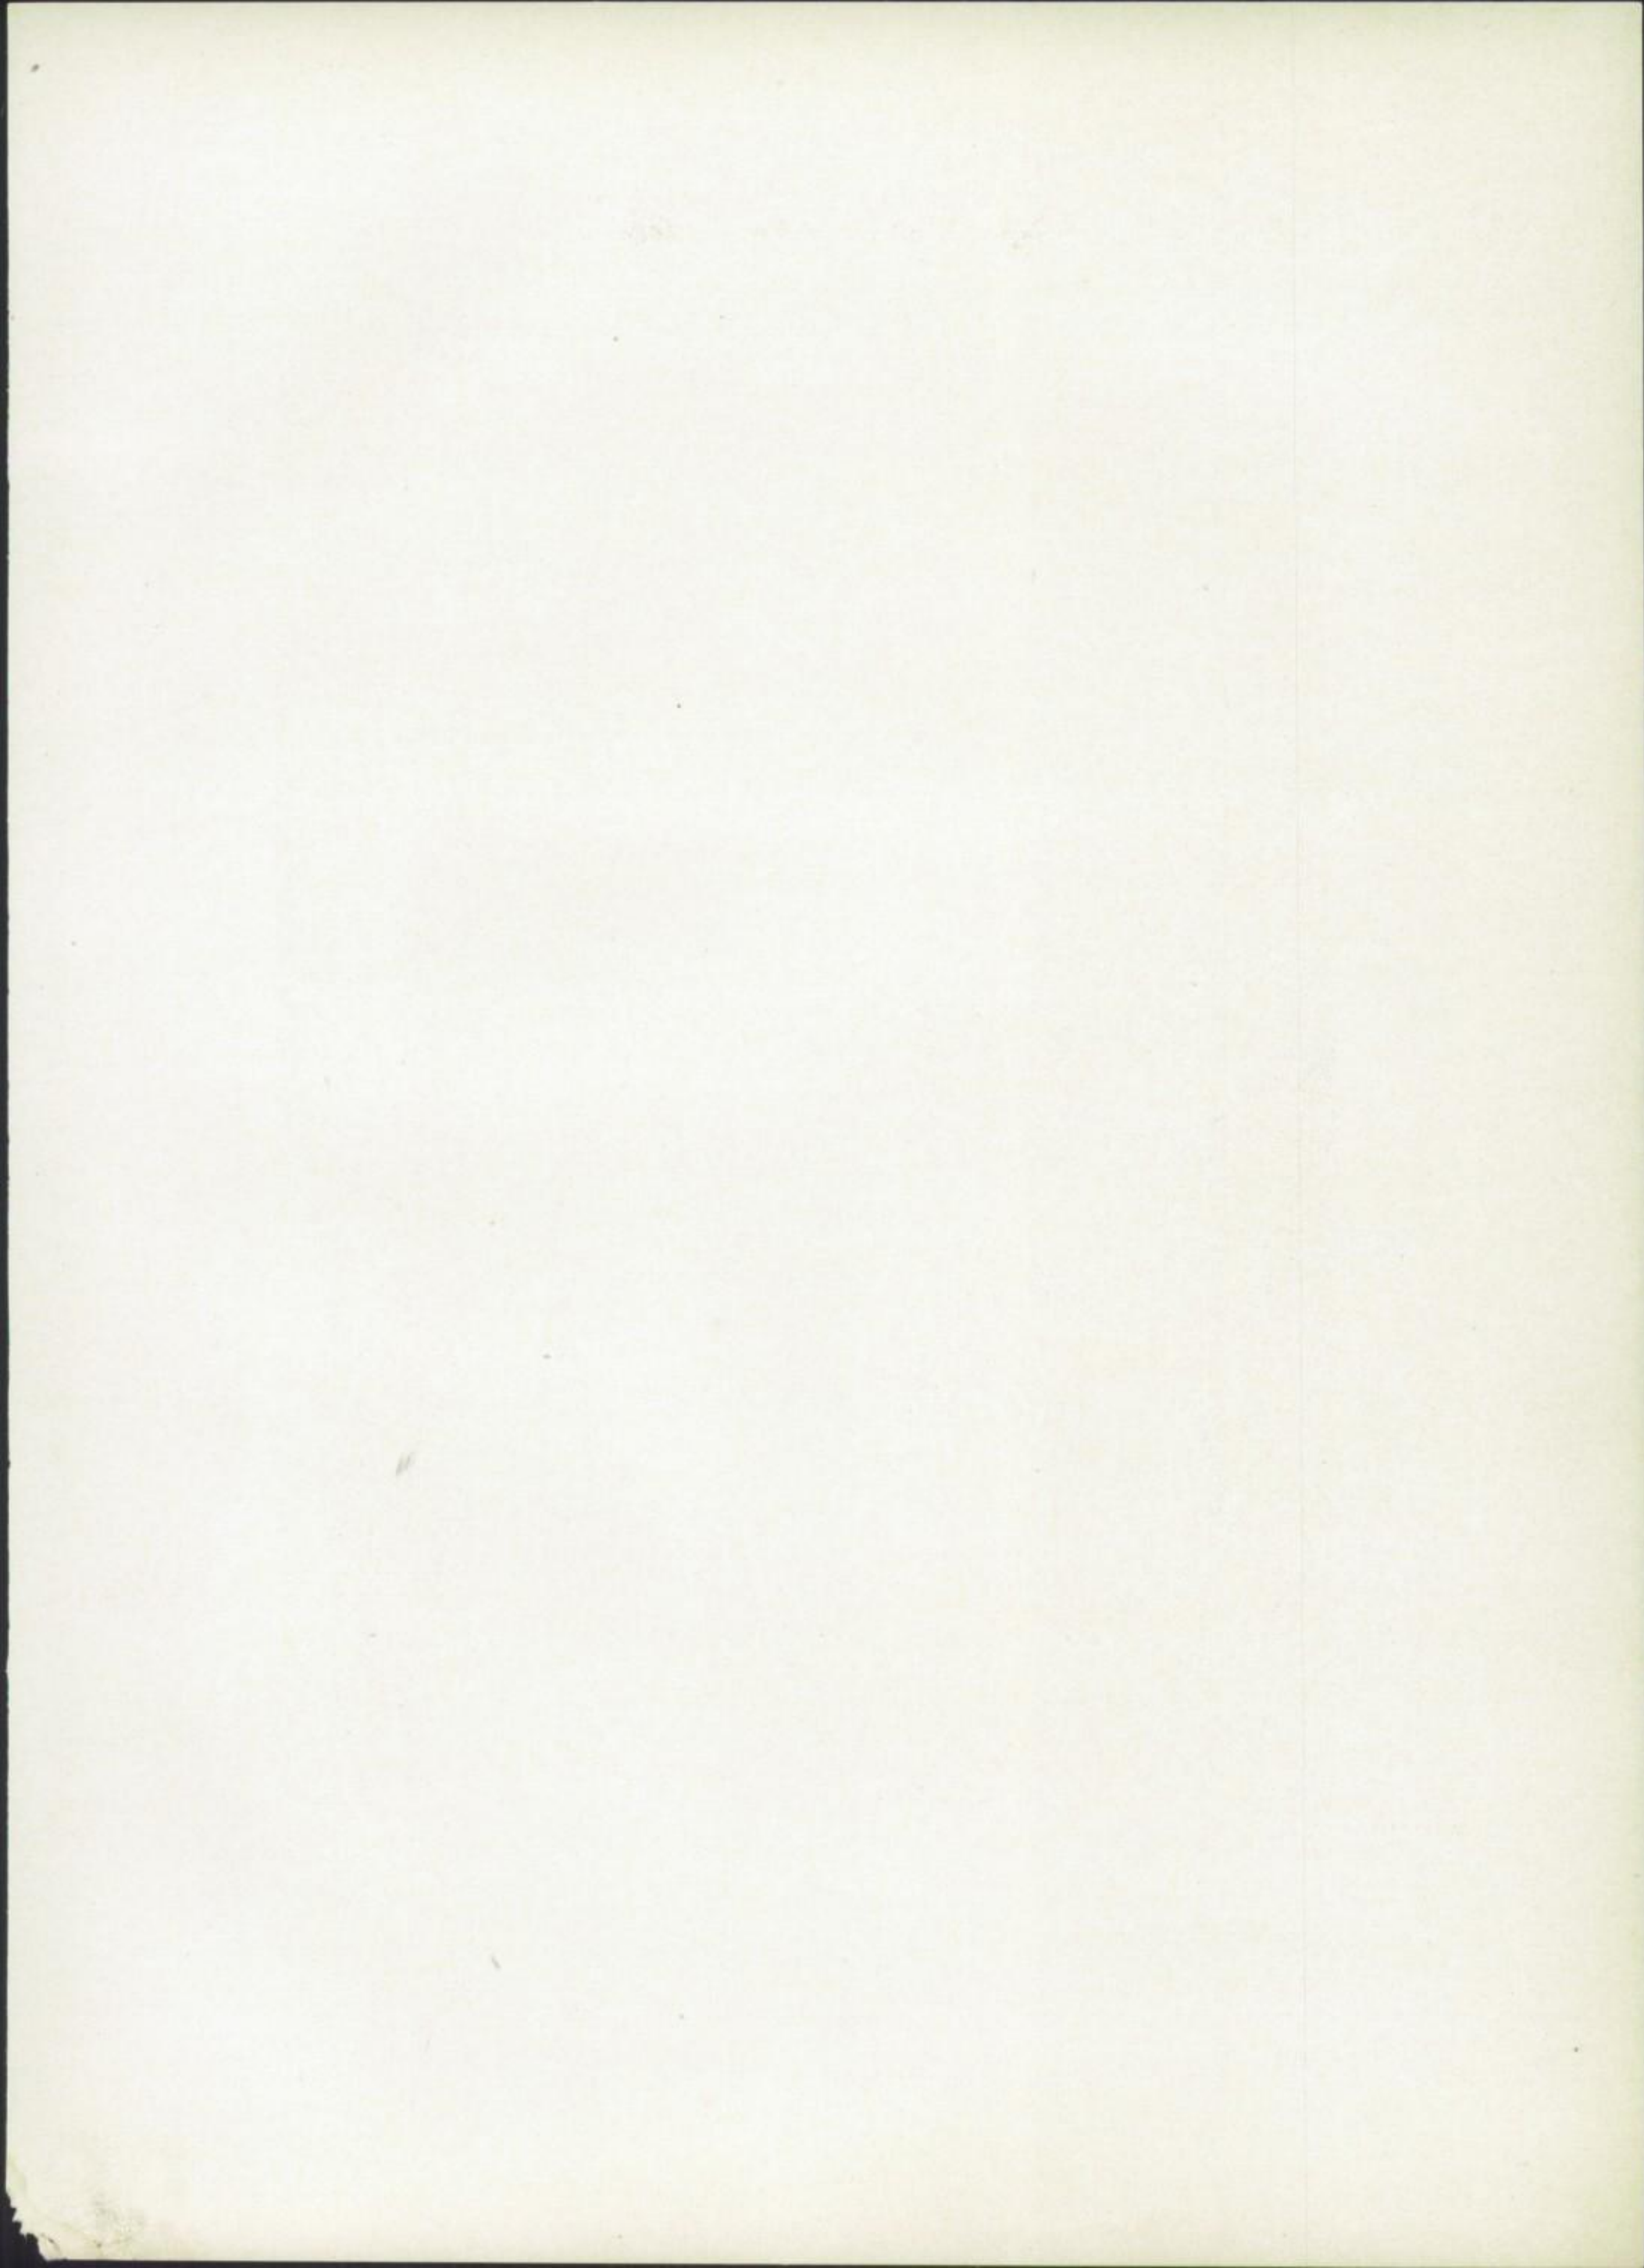

Many events of this school year have established themselves as outstanding in our memories. Sport events have held the interest of every student. Last summer was marked by the golf and baseball teams going to state. Football season brought 6 wins and 2 losses and a win over the rival red and white at the biggest game of the year. The basketball season was marked by the team tying with Central for the city title. The hockey team took the city title also. The Track team won the city-regional meet in the spring of '54. The cheers, the pep assemblies, Homecoming with King Bob, Maroon and Gold Day, and Western Round-Up Day were all a part of these sporting events.

Yes, 1955 has been a good year for everyone. For the graduating seniors this year has probably held more than any other school year. Kid Day, the Senior Banquet, and the Prom held many exciting moments that are fond memories. The selection of the Queen, Honor Day, and Commencement brought to a climax their high school careers. Although the school year is over, memories of the place, the people, and the events of 1955 will long linger.

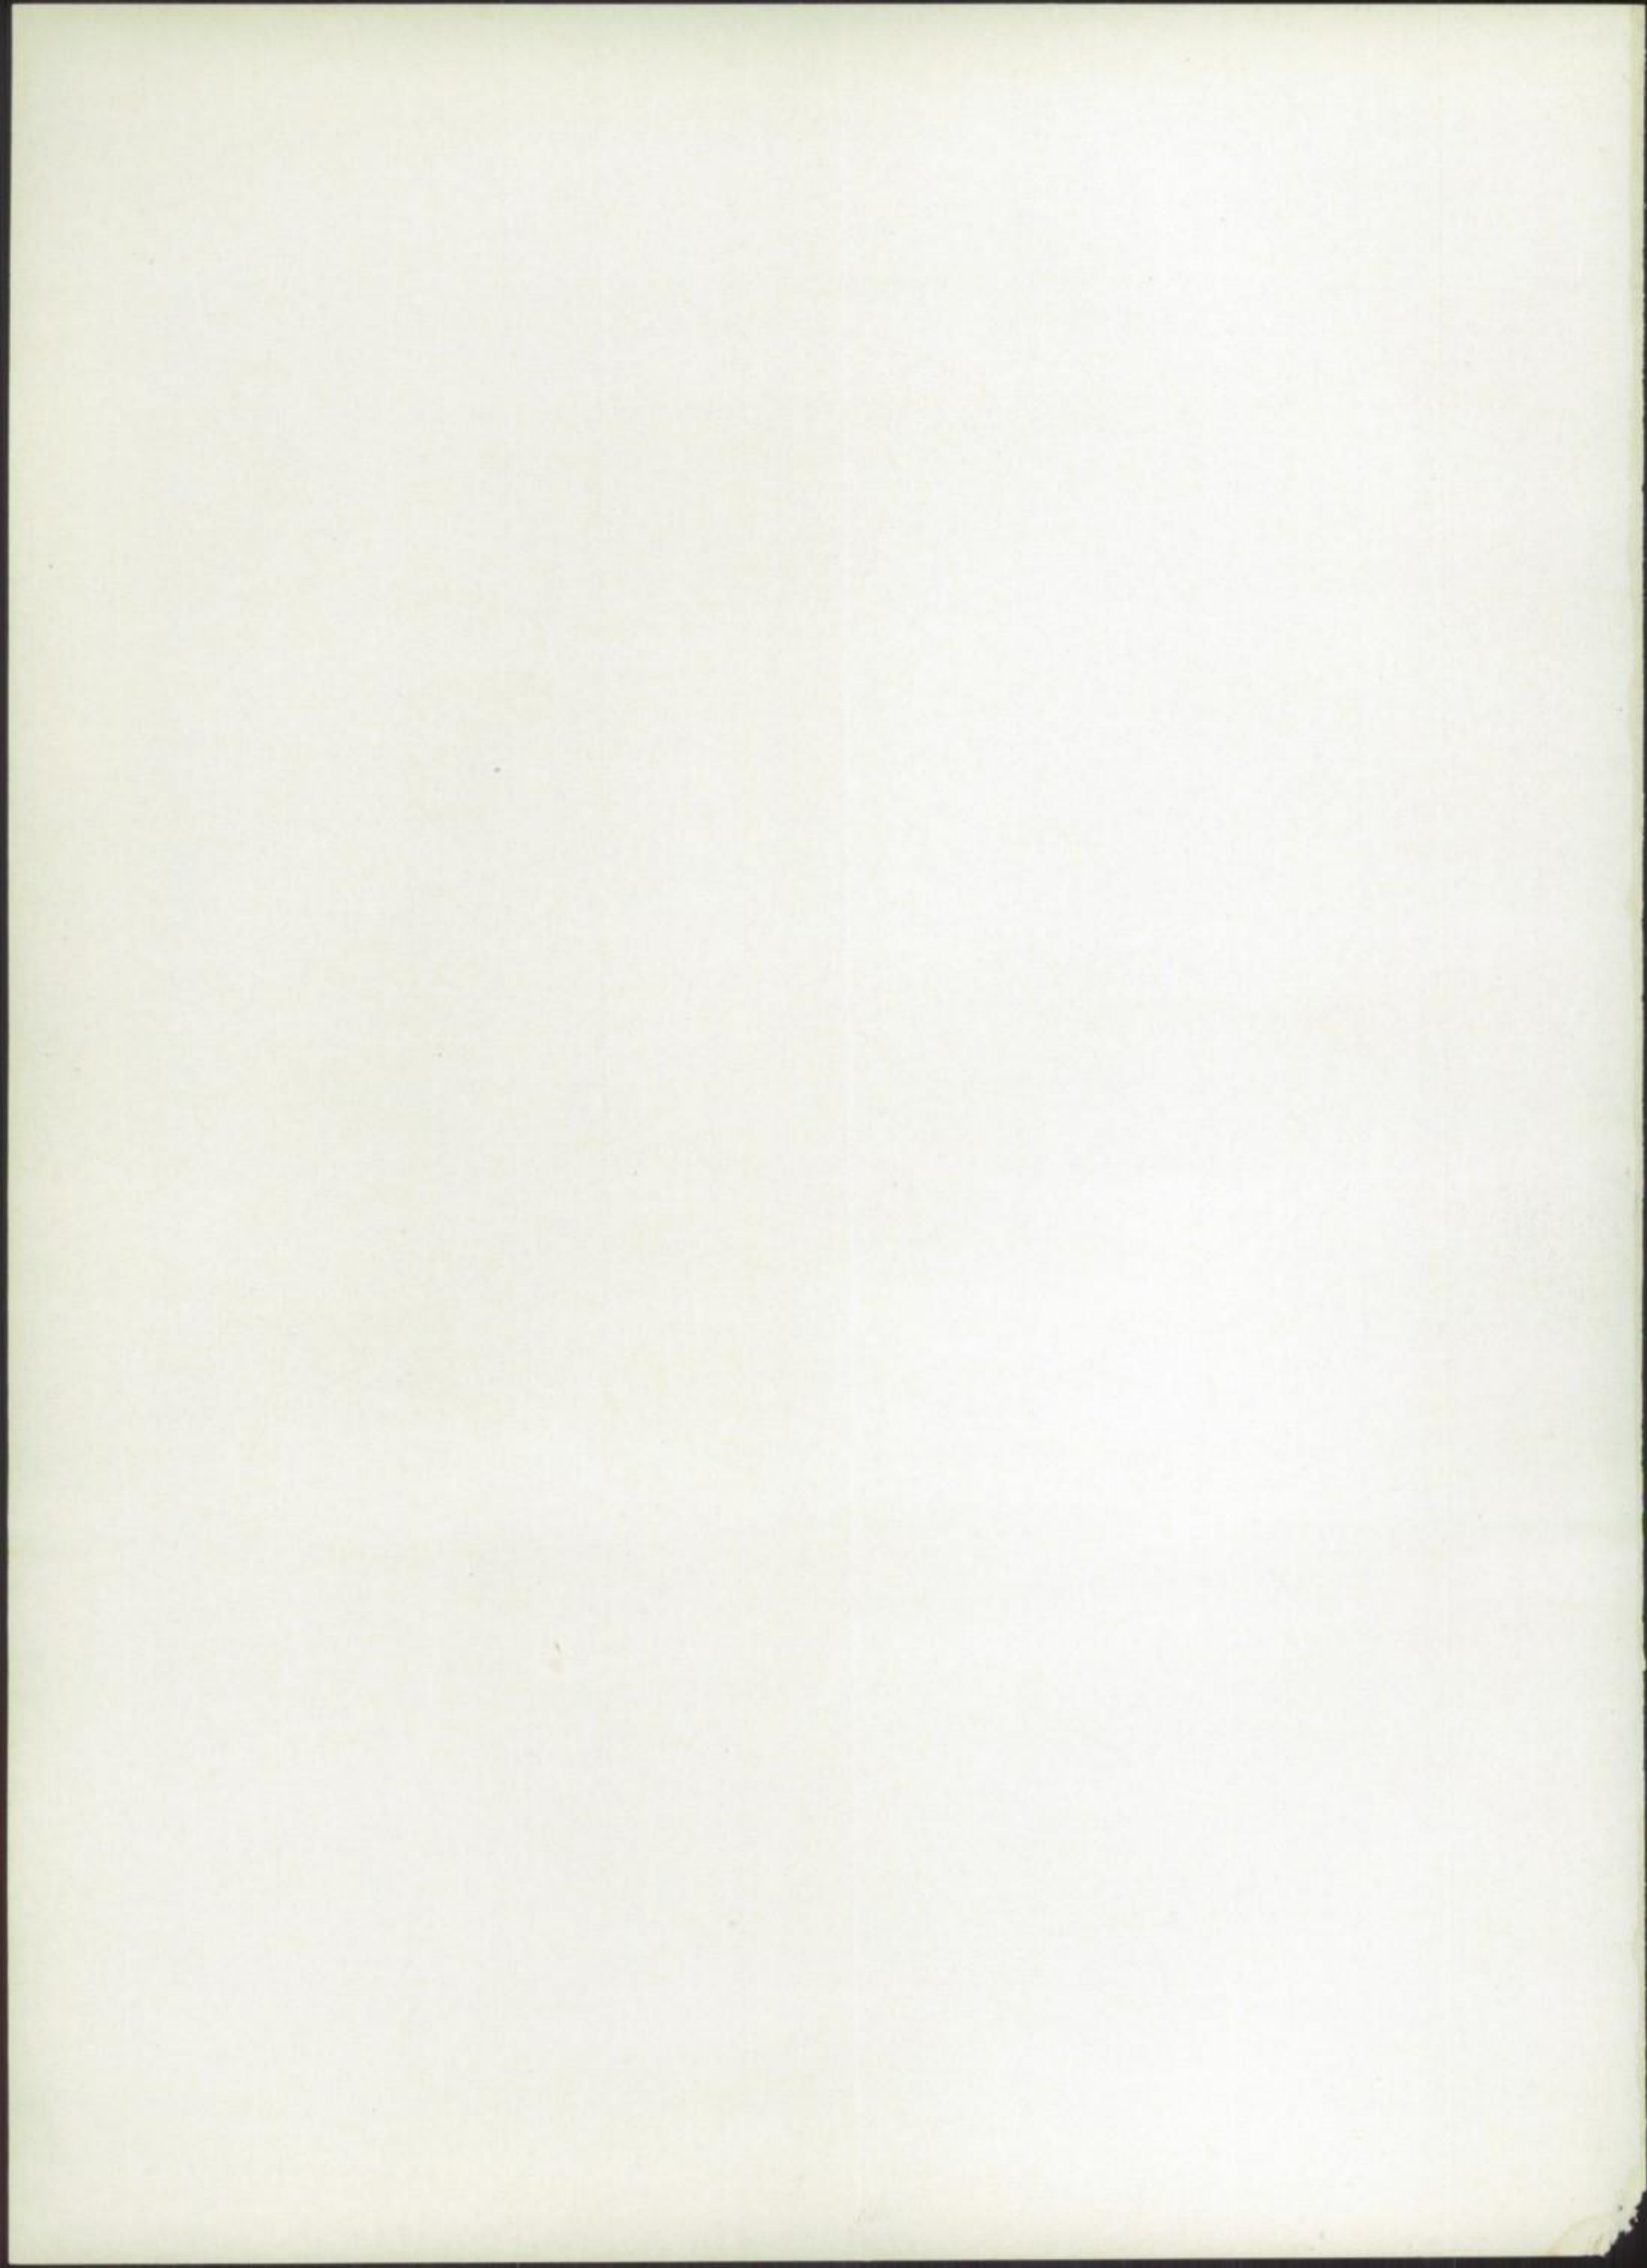

The place is Denfeld High School. Its friendly tower has smiled down on every student that has walked through the doors of knowledge. In September, it welcomed a new sophomore class to the fold and with the coming of June, bade another senior class farewell. No one who has ever been a part of Denfeld, its people, and events can ever forget this place and those days that were so filled with enjoyable experiences.

Denfeld is what its people have made it. The administration has done much to see that every Denfeld student grew in the light of good character. They have taught in the classrooms and given guidance and advice freely to every seeking student. Through these accomplishments they have come to be known as friends. They have certainly established themselves as an important part of Denfeld's people. The faculty has helped to make this year of 1955 a year to remember, and all three classes hope that they have also made this year a pleasant memory for the administration.

Administration

G. DELL DAEDO, Principal

As principal of Denfeld, Mr. Daedo helps to guide students through their years of high school. His sincere respect for each individual and his helpfulness with problems has won both the respect of the community and of the Denfeld students. Mr. Daedo can ably express himself in a few well-chosen words and is a man of deeds. Everyone who enters his office receives a friendly smile and individual attention from student to faculty member. Mr. Daedo's chief interest is in developing good character and making good citizens of his students.

ETHELYN GRUETZMACHER

Girls' Counselor

Miss Ethelyn Gruetzmacher is a very busy member of the Denfeld staff. In her position as Girls' Counselor and Guidance Chairman she has offered the girls of Denfeld her understanding, trust, and advice and has established herself as a real friend to every girl.

WALTER HUNTING

Assistant Principal

Aside from guiding our football team, Mr. Hunting holds the post of assistant Principal and boys' counselor. The statement "a friend indeed" fits Mr. Hunting very well, for he is a true friend to anyone who asks his advice.

Marking attendance cards is only one of the many and varied jobs of Miss Mary Wieveg and Miss Bertie Frazee, Denfeld secretaries. These indispensable members of the office staff are busy the year round performing their duties so essential to a smoothly running school. Miss Wieveg is in charge of the school mimeographing while Miss Frazee has the responsibility of text books.

Acting as Mr. Daedo's secretary, Mrs. Doris Klopp receives instructions for correspondence. Taking his dictation and making out various reports are among her other duties.

The job of seeing that the school is kept warm and in respectable condition is left to Mr. Fred Alfons, head engineer. He must check over all projects involving the use of school property and see to the maintenance of all equipment.

Looking down people's throats is strictly routine for Miss Hildure Nelson, the school nurse. She looks after the welfare of all the students and conducts first aid classes for those interested.

Robert Cummings, Kathleen Skoog, Ann Banovetz and James Coulard make plans for the sophomore issue of the Criterion.

Three art students, Maxine Connell, Roger Shelerud and Marshall Smith, prepare decorations to use in the annual Christmas exhibit.

Fine Arts

Self expression and appreciation are the chief objectives of Denfeld's fine arts curriculum. This valued art of self expression is brought out especially in the journalism, creative writing, and play production classes. Through reading and study of world literature, the students learn to appreciate with the great masters of the past and present. A knowledge of the work that is possible through highly trained and skillful hands comes naturally through practice in the art rooms. Down the hallway, the resonant sounds of the apprentice musicians, fill the air with a melodious atmosphere. Rounding out this school of higher learning are the foreign languages. Spanish, Latin and French acquaint students with their far-off neighbors.

Tyrone Bujold, Gene Bradt, Melvin Drumm, and June Peterson, Play Production students, dramatize a scene from Cyrano de Bergerac.

Selling Easter plants are Doris and Dorothy Sams, distributive education students.

Mrs. Dorothy Bartle instructs Gail Strand, Carol Cegla, and Alice Anderson in typing techniques.

Vocational

In order to assist both girls and boys in preparing for college and future vocations, Denfeld offers a wide range of subjects. Courses such as cooking, sewing, and girls' home mechanics help the girls prepare to meet the problems of home-making or of a business life. For the boys, it is Smith-Hughes, architectural drawing, woodwork, and autobody which help them select their life's vocation or avocation. By becoming acquainted with the various fields they may choose the one of their preference. Future stenographers, sales clerks, and accountants receive help through secretarial and business courses. No significant occupation is omitted in this well-rounded program.

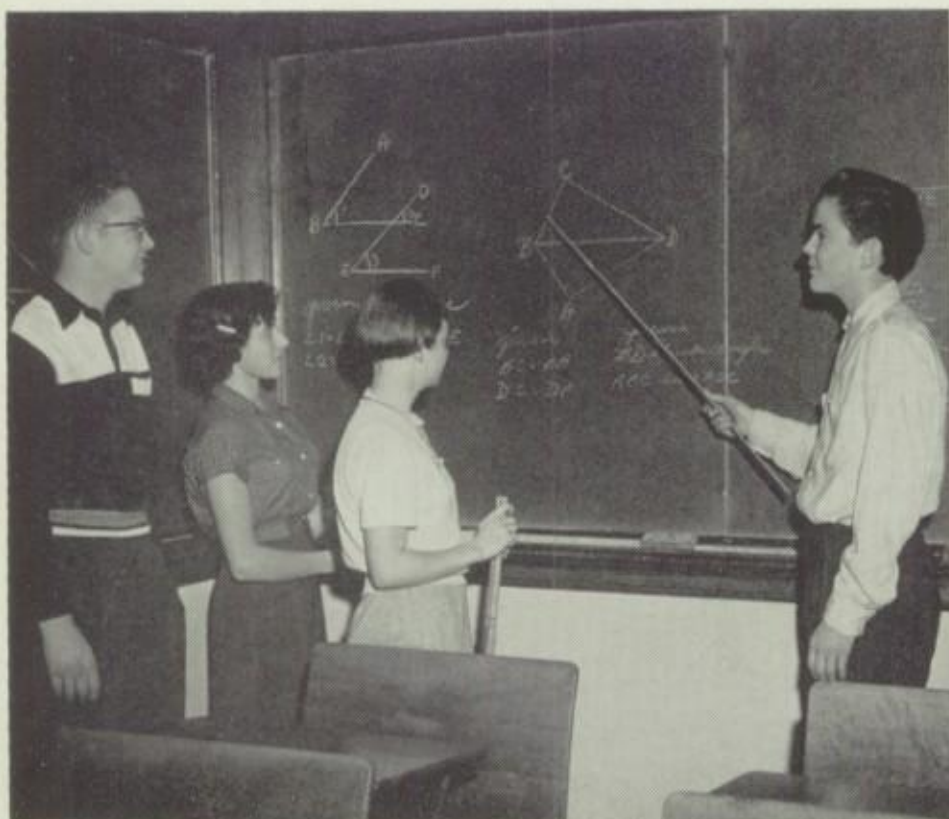

Driving instructor, Mr. Brown, prepares to give behind-the-wheel training to Neal Rogers and Janet Walleen.

Howard Askelson, William Anderson, and Paul Mann assemble a step table in their woodwork class.

Machine shop students Terrence Dwyer, Kenneth Johnson, Donald Gimpel, Dwight Forsyth, and Gerald Hedquist work on a sine bar.

Richard Skogg explains a geometry problem to Jay Williams, Mickey Puglisi, and Jeanette Pollard.

Myron Nelson, Mickey Puglisi, and Gerald Rolleau study microscopic life in their biology class.

Academic

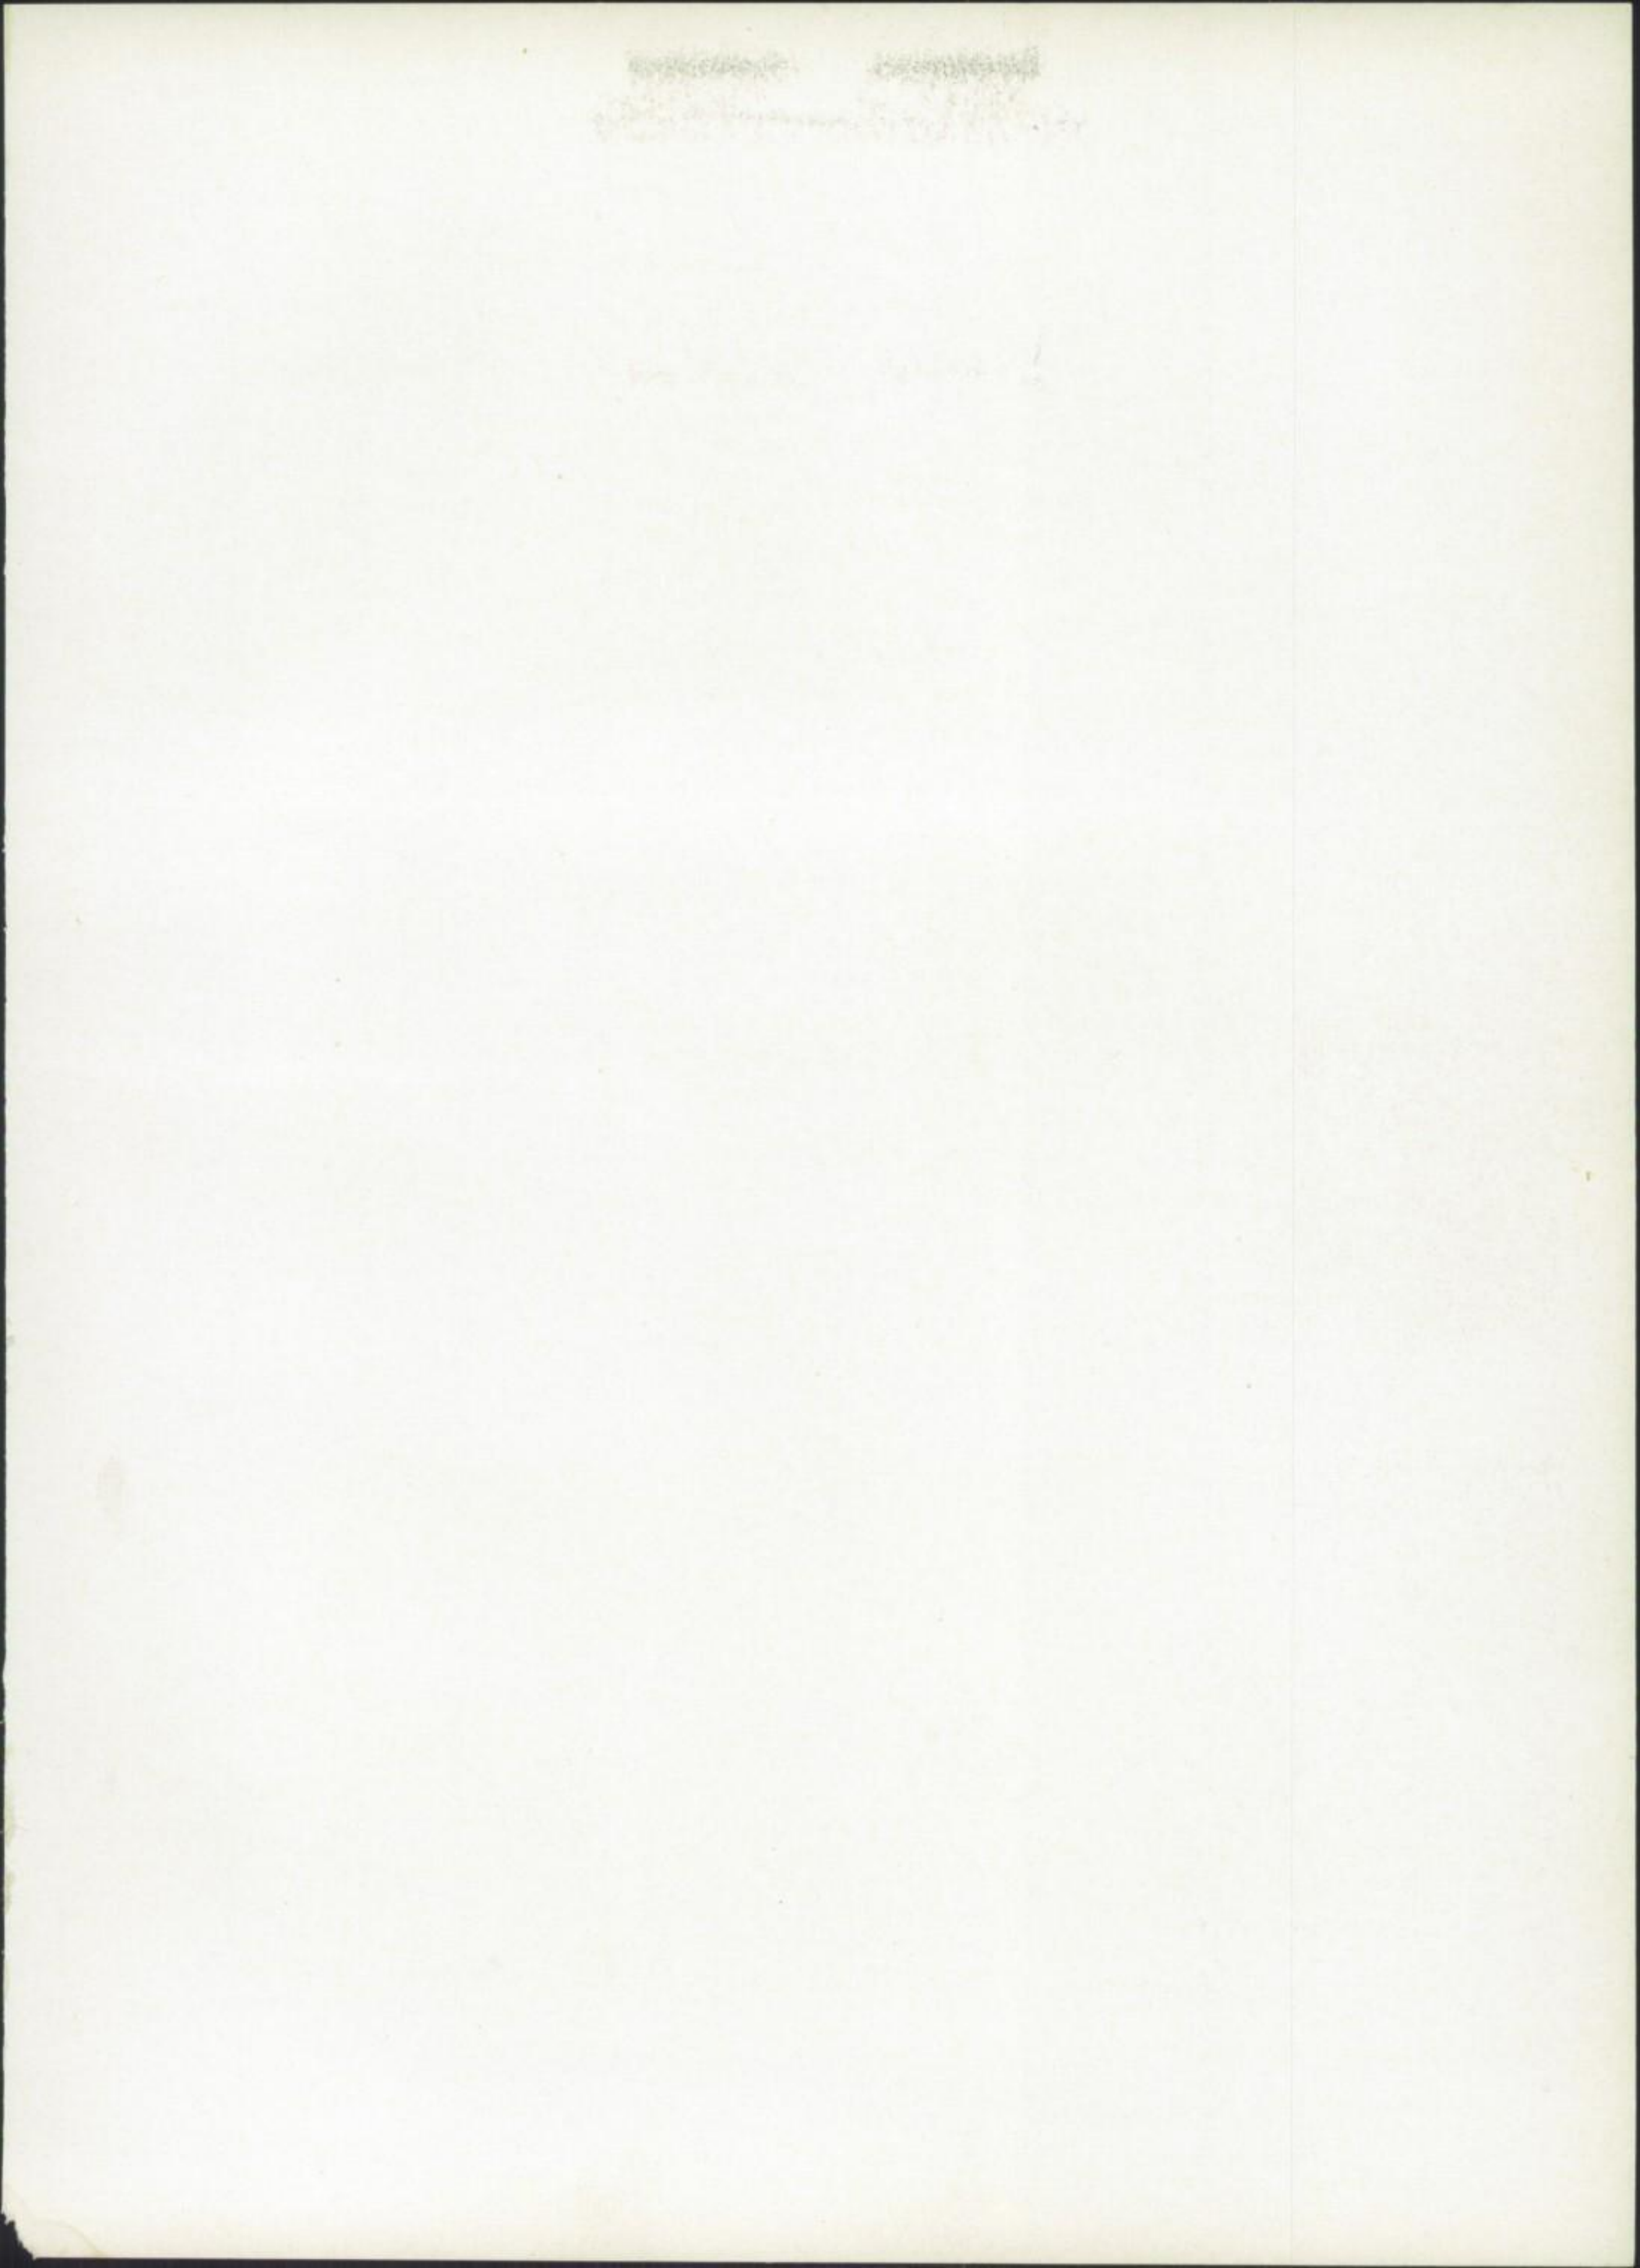

School would not be school without a certain number of required credits. A well-rounded education is presented to the student through a catalogue of social studies, mathematics, science and language arts. These branch out into the various special fields in an attempt to touch all points of student interest. A few of these are problems of democracy, speech, biology and world history. In this way, a wide and varied program is assured the student. A choice is offered as to the special field of any required subject.

Endeavoring to improve their culinary skills are Joan Pichotta, Harriet Young, and Genevieve Zime.

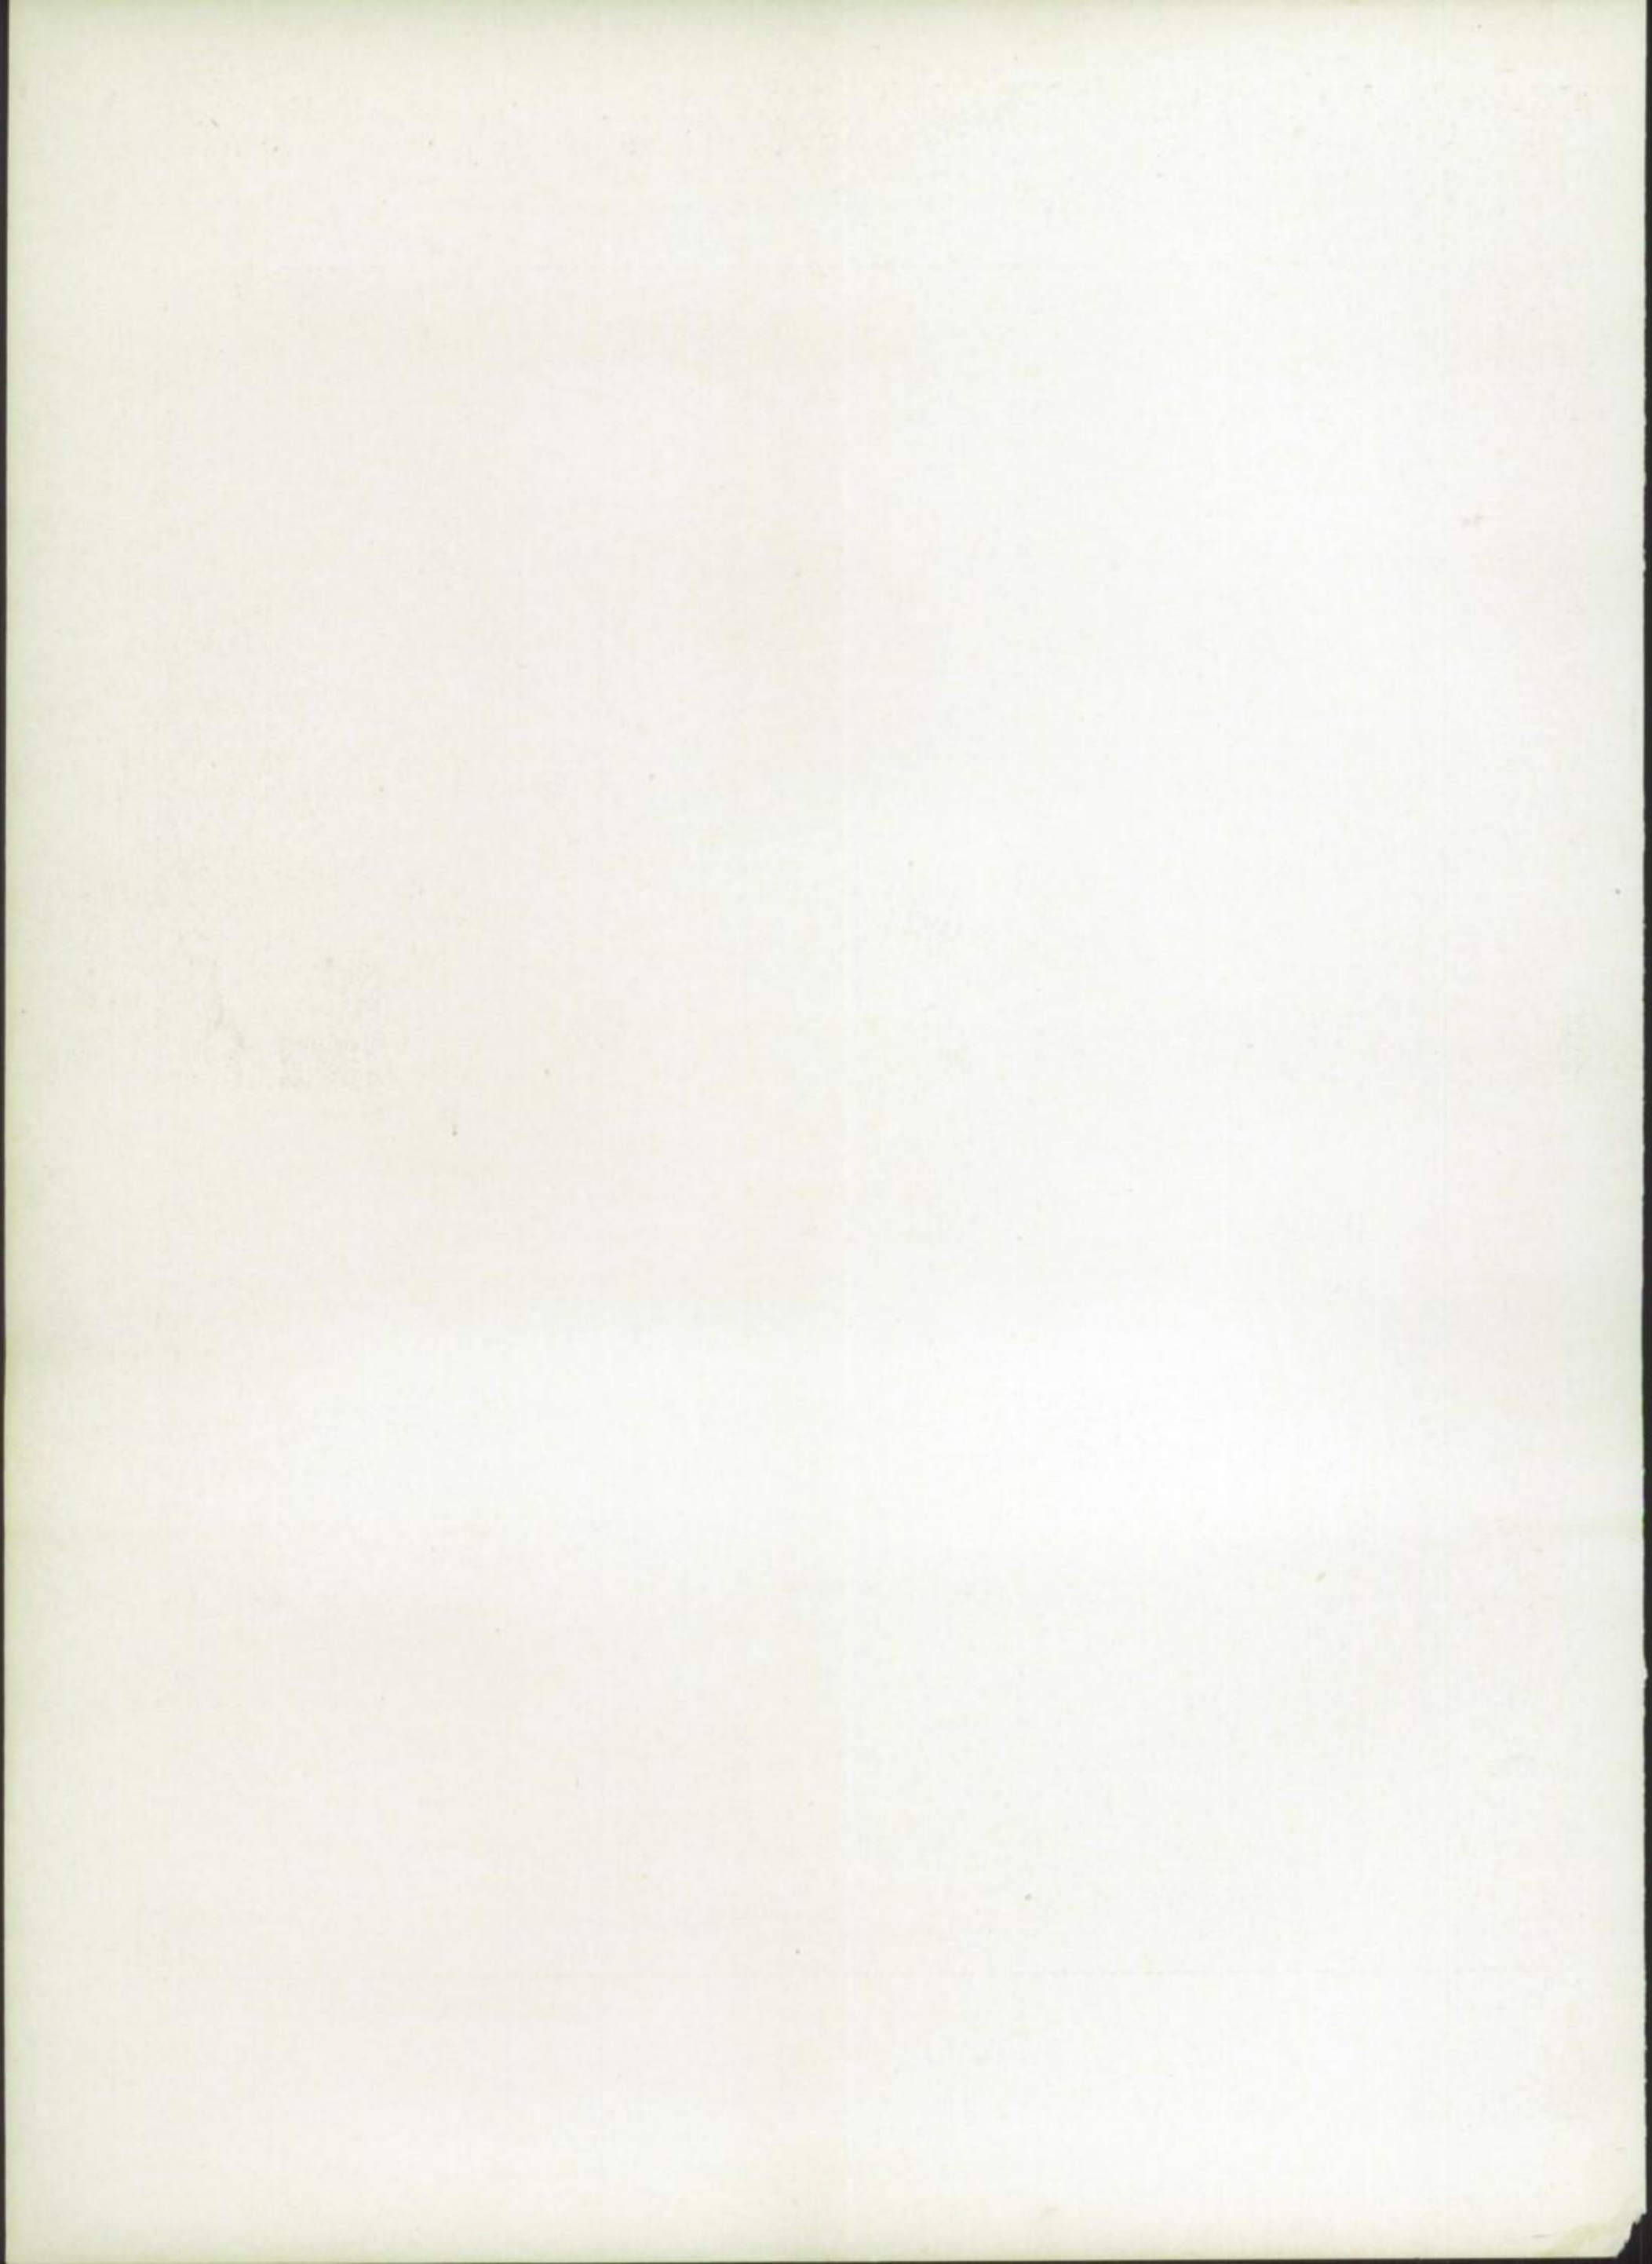

Carol Kaivo, Darrel Swanfeld, and Robert Monson listen intently as Mr. Robert Lunder explains a chemistry experiment.

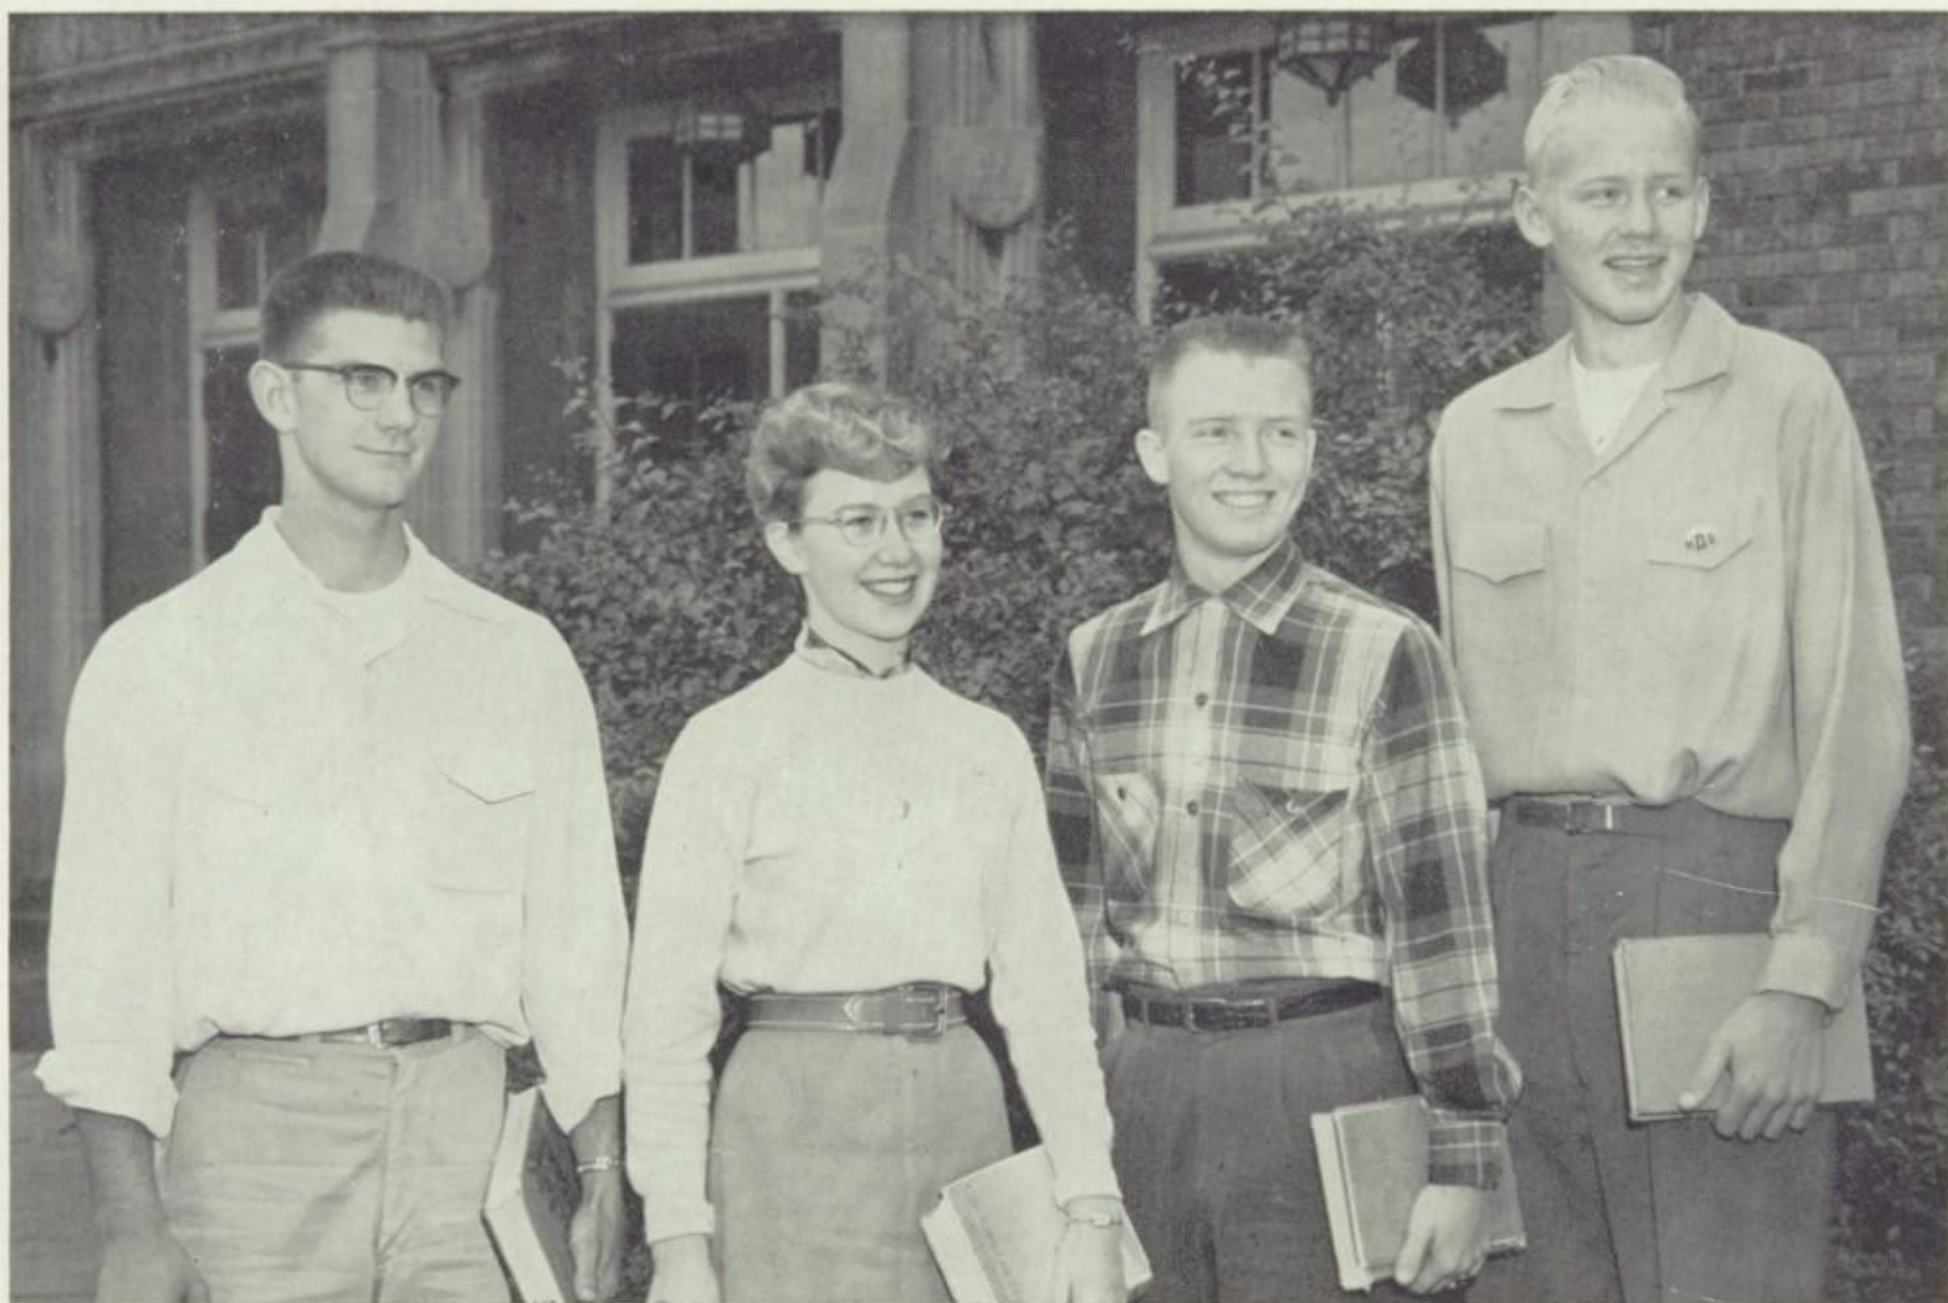

This year has been one of fun and frolic, work and opportunity for the students of Denfeld High School. For the graduating seniors, this year has probably held more than any other school year, although sophomores and juniors as well as seniors have acquired many unforgettable memories of this past year. Every student has become well established as a part of Denfeld's people. Fellow students have shown their talents and abilities and established themselves as future leaders. Many of the friends of these high school days will remain for life.

Seniors Bid Denfeld Farewell

Last September, the Class of 1955 entered the doors of Denfeld for their last year of high school education. It turned out to be a happy and most interesting year, filled with study and activity.

The faculty, especially Mr. Daedo and the class counselors, Miss Mattson and Mr. Anderson, gave the class skillful assistance in the pursuit of knowledge.

The spirited seniors filled the year with lively enthusiasm as they energetically participated in sports, speech, dramatics, music, and other activities. They presented a very successful class play, "The Wizard of Oz," and gave the faculty a much needed break on Student-Teacher Day.

Maturity and dignity characterized the seniors on Dress-Up Day, but a dramatic "about face" brought them back to their childhood "daze" on Kid Day. The romantic moonlight shone down on them on Prom night; and good friends, fine fellowship, pleasant surroundings, and savory food delighted them at the Senior Banquet.

But with all this busy happiness there was a touch of sadness, for Denfeld days soon came to an end. During the Baccalaureate Service and the Graduation Exercises tears flowed freely from the girls' eyes and lumps rose in the boys' throats.

Then, enriched by these experiences, the Class of 1955 walked through the doors of Denfeld into the future.

Junior Year Presents Opportunities

Dues Collectors—Jeanne Wedan, Yvonne Senarighi, Solveig Hjermstad, Evelyn Nielson, Janice Anderson, Elsa Bylund, Karen Schuhe, Joan Engard, Sharon Paradise, Charlene Galli, Patricia Koralia.

Eleven down and one to go, years at school, that is. We, as juniors, have had the unusual pleasure of looking up to one class and down to another.

This year's junior class was well represented in sports, speech, and music. Basketball, football, debate, Criterion, operetta, a cappella, band and orchestra are a few of the activities in which juniors were active.

The play "Double-Barreled Detective Story" was presented April 1, and was an outstanding performance.

The class was the traditional host of Denfeld's seniors at the annual Junior-Senior Prom on May 6 in the ballroom of the Hotel Duluth. This was the peak of the year's social activities and was considered a brilliant success and occasion to be remembered with pleasure.

The years at Denfeld will always be recalled as three of our best years—full of activities, interests, and opportunities. We have gained self-confidence and pleasure in the knowledge that we belong. We also have the joy of realizing that we have another full year at Denfeld and that the last and best is yet to come.

Sophs Receive Key to Success

When the sophomores were given the key to Denfeld at the Sophomore Tea on September 3, little did they realize all the doors it would open for them. That key opened the doors to the classrooms, with their boundless knowledge. It opened the door to opportunities in music, speech, debate, journalism, athletics, and numerous organizations. It also opened the door to pleasant social contacts and warm friendships with their classmates, upperclassmen and faculty.

Under the understanding direction of the faculty advisers, Mr. Harold Ahlbom and Mr. Ronald Nokleberg, the sophomores were started on a successful year with the election of four outstanding students as class officers. Throughout the year these capable leaders performed their duties competently.

The sophomores took an active part in school activities, contributing their share. Their enthusiasm and outstanding school spirit was evidenced by the magazine drive in which they won top honors.

The sophomores scored again with their successful class play "Father Knows Best." Highlighting their social activities was the Sophomore Class Party on May 6.

Looking back over the year, the sophomores can truly say the key to Denfeld is "a magic key to sunder gates where wonder waits."

Jim Godfrey, Jackie Olson, Janice Anderson, Darrell Faille, and Ray La Brosse take advantage of a few spare moments for relaxation.

John Landgren, Karen Jo Carlson, and Ann Banovetz, the three editors for the Red Cross books presented to the exchange students, work in the Cri room.

Catching up on library work is Orland Olsen, Joe Porma, and Alice Peyton.

Club activities of '55 will also remain in many memories. The officers of the numerous organizations have helped to see their clubs through a success-filled year for all. The Boys' Union added to the social life and entertainment of each Denfeld boy. Making a tour of the cities of the world were the girls of Denfeld, members of the Girls' Club. The Power Club marked another season of pep and spirit to back each athletic team, and the Pyramid has governed and kept Denfeld running smoothly. The literary and speech groups have also celebrated a year of progress. Yes, 1955 has been an event-full year for each and every organization from Latin Club to Future Teachers.

Denfeld thrives under Pyramid.

The Pyramid more than met its required number of projects again this year. The student council is composed of representatives from all the homerooms, combining to represent the opinion of the student body. At the weekly meetings school problems are presented to the Pyramid to be discussed. Under Tyrone Bujold, they handled everything from hall cadets to bonfires. The annual magazine drive made a profit of $1,327.64 for the school, which was to be used for various necessities, such as student conventions, audio visual, Criterion, stage, P.T.A., debate, speech, a new flag, athletic insurance and the bus fund.

A safety assembly commemorating S-D Day was held, and a city-wide safety council was formed under James Banovetz.

Courtesy Week showed the students how easy it is to be courteous, and Student Teacher's Day acquainted them with the joys of teaching.

There were the customary collections for the poor and needy. Tag Day, the Community Chest, and Red Cross were just a few that Pyramid cared for.

Promoting school functions and stressing school policy rounded out the heavy schedule for this versatile little group. The advisers, without whom this would have all been impossible, were Miss Louise Hall and Mrs. Dorothy Bartle.

Darlene Hansen, June Peterson, Sandra Knutson, and Joanne Flyckt, Power Club members, decorate the gym for the big western round-up.

Eager Valentine purchasers crowd the Power Club sales table to buy greetings for special friends and sweethearts.

Power Club Spurs Spirit

In order to maintain school spirit the Power Club sponsored various activities throughout the year. This year's club under the leadership of Sandra Knutson and Miss Helen Peterson started the school year off on a friendly note with Hello Day.

Homecoming, Maroon and Gold Day, Western Round-Up Day, and the Faculty Tea were made successful events through the effort of the Power Club members. These events required hours in planning and decorating. The Homecoming setting of evergreen, mistletoe and tinsel displayed the handiwork of the club. Gaily decorated halls, lockers, and auditorium added to the Maroon and Gold Day pleasure of every student. In order to "Fence-em-In" the club rounded up all their talents to stage a colorful and fun filled Western Round-up Day. At the Faculty Tea the Power Club played host to the Denfeld administration.

Building up the student pep to back the teams was another of their many tasks. The pep assemblies that were given were planned and carried off by Power Club members. Sending telegrams and cakes also helped to show the boys that the school was behind them and added to the celebration of victories.

In order to perform all these many things money was required. The club earned it through various projects. Selling pencils, pom-poms, basketball and football pins, and poster ads—all helped to swell the treasury.

"Pep and Spirit, Let's Hear It"

Through competitive elimination six girls were chosen last September to represent the maroon and gold and lead the yells and songs at all Denfeld sporting events. These cheerleaders have kept aflame Denfeld's pep and fighting spirit and urged the teams on to many victories.

At the pep assemblies on the day of those big games they encouraged both the students and the faculty to "really yell" as they built up the steam to back the team for that night's game. The walls of the cafeteria often resounded with the cheers which these girls lead during the lunch periods. Almost any evening after school they could be found in the panel lobby practicing their routines and yells so that the Denfeld spirit might be heard at every game. Any athletic event wouldn't have been complete without a raising yell from this peppy six.

Karen Erickson, Phyllis Carlson, Kathy Burns, Judy Marion, Jo Anne Puglisi, and Roberta Schuman, head.

Girls Make Tour of World Cities

Imagine receiving a key to the city of Denfeld! That is just what the Girls' Club gave new Denfeld students at their welcome party last fall.

From that day on the Girls' Club theme featured Cities of the World. The girls received a glimpse of Odense, Denmark, from Myrna Hansen, exchange student. Manhattan and Honolulu beckoned the big and little sisters to coke parties. All the girls went on a "Picnic in Central Park" and captured a lung-full of crisp winter air in Sun Valley. Spring brought a dance in Shanghai, a mother and daughter tea in London, and a breakfast at the Hollywood Breakfast Club to complete the global tour.

Ah, Paris! This old city was the setting for the banquet. A turkey dinner with all the trimmings was served to an unusually large group. Menus were tiny hat boxes with the order of food written in French. After the banquet a style show was presented featuring new spring fashions.

Broadway set the pace for the Girls' Club operetta, "Sweethearts," by Victor Herbert. Colorful songs and dances together with wooden shoes and Dutch hats were a part of the production.

Another year passed and soon it was time for a new cabinet to take over. The inaugural was held in the capital of the United States, Washington, D. C. Then the seniors made a farewell to Denfeld but not without remembering the achievements of the 1955 Girls' Club under the able leadership of Avis Baldwin, together with the cabinet and Miss Abby Gregory, adviser.

Fitting Dale Matchett, Prince Franz, are operetta costume chairmen Donna Nelson and Carol Rae Seaberg.

The Denfeld Boys' Union, under the leadership of this year's president, Robert Nissen, presented their "Big Three" in grand style.

Mr. Nordal Anderson was "hung by the neck until dead" after a suspenseful trial scene at the Boys' stag. This was the only truly all-boy program of the year, and the boys took full advantage of it.

The 22nd Annual Vodvil presented one of the best varieties of talent ever seen on the Denfeld stage. Humor, music, and satire, topped off by cash awards, made it a delightful program for audience and participants alike.

The last of the "Big Three" was the Boys' Assembly. Here the boys were given a real opportunity to express themselves. They brought out their own select group of cheerleaders, twirlers, and Power Club members. Lenny Anderson, as the president, gave a spirited pep talk. A Jackie Gleason skit, followed by a one-sided quiz contest, rounded out one of the most humorous and best planned assemblies of the year.

Along with the celebrated "Big Three" the Union also put on their annual style show. This was the fashion highlight of the year as the latest styles for men were presented against a background of modern sports cars.

Thomas Schellinger, Dale Newberg, Robert Nissen, Harold Fox, Ronald Welhaven, Gerald Lunke make plans for the Boys' Union style show.

Cliff Hay, Bob Dahl, Donn Anderson, and Ken Peterson anxiously await their turkey dinners from Coach Mickolajak at the Boys' Stag.

Clubs Enjoy . . .

Extra-curricular activities filled the spare hours of many Denfeld students. Besides rounding out the social life of the members and giving them an opportunity to enjoy a hobby, many of these clubs performed services for the school and also the community.

The Red Cross Club this year made many scrap books and placemats to be used at veterans' hospitals. Serving the school and surrounding area, the Hi-Y Club has lived up to its motto—"To create, maintain and extend throughout home, school, and community a high standard of Christian character."

As a division of the Girls' Club, the Devotional Club gave those interested an opportunity to gather. This non-denominational club featured different speakers on their monthly programs.

Promoting interest in certain vocational areas were the Future Teachers and Future Nurses organizations. They gained knowledge of their fields through speakers, practice teaching, and hospital tours.

Making plans for the Future Teachers' practice teaching program are Frank Borelli, Sharon Shafer, secretary, Donald Carlson, president, Barbara Burns, and Lynn Downs.

Red Cross members Loretta Wolfe, Shirley Wolfe, Wilma Sherman, and Janet Lundgren, chairman, make books and decorations.

Slave Marie Slomka serves Miss Gregory, Sharon Shafer, tribune, James Banovetz, master of ceremonies, and Richard Miller, censor, at the Latin Club banquet.

The Spanish Club awaits the rain of goodies from the pinata as Dale Matchett, vice-president, Bruce Johnson, president, Gene Sisto, treasurer, and Richard Love, secretary, prepare to break it.

... Full Calendar

Foreign language students also found group activity enjoyable. New this year to Denfeld the S.P.Q.R. or Latin Club has been very active. This club is based on a point system which enables the members to rise in rank from slave to citizen. The highlight of their year was a Roman style banquet where the guests dressed, ate, and acted as they did in Rome 2,000 years ago.

Spanish speaking students this year used their funds to bring educational Spanish films to Denfeld for use in the classes. Thee traditional Christmas Fiesta with its pinata was the outstanding event of the Spanish Club year. Of special interest to the members was the exchange of letters with Puerto Rican students.

Photography enthusiasts found the weekly Camera Club meetings educational. They learned composition, lighting, and developing techniques. Covering Kid Day, visiting a TV studio, and entering contests were the main projects of their year.

Hi-Y officers, James Olson, vice-president, Clyde Johnson, president, Ken Newman, secretary, and Bert Ostlund, treasurer, undertake their yearly project of polishing Denfeld's trophies.

Members of the Camera Club, Rodney Andersen, president, Margie Norlen, secretary, and James Kinetz, vice-president, work with the developer.

Planning a Devotional Club program are Jeanne Wedan, Karen Myhre, Sharon Johnson, and Mary Anne Kertzsch, chairman.

Elizabeth Anderson, secretary, Lee Ann Swanson, vice-president, practice their nursing skills for a Future Nurses meeting.

Newsmen Report Denfeld Doings

"To keep Denfeld on the map" was the task well done by the members of one of Denfeld's hardest working organizations, the Criterion. The "Cri staff" carried out their bi-weekly job amid the usual flurry of typed and untyped copy, late stories, and missing page and galley proofs.

The final outcome of the activity in the "Cri Room," 307, was the thirteen issues published this year. These issues carried the reports of the activities in and around Denfeld.

Undaunted by even whole pages appearing in the wrong place in the paper, the staff strove to carry out the newsman's job of reporting the news accurately and interestingly for the student body and the many schools on the "Cri's" exchange list. Over 50 schools from all over the United States and even foreign schools received copies of the Criterion as part of the paper's exchange program.

Carrying out the job of co-ordinating the pages with each other and with the print shop while guiding the publication for the paper was Jim Banovetz, who was assisted by Margaret K. Gatzweiler, the editorial adviser.

Providing the funds for the publication was the job of the business manager, Janet Lundgren, who headed the advertising staff. Assisting this part of the Criterion staff was the business adviser, Mrs. Winifred Maier.

Time and Effort Produce Yearbook

With plans for this year's Oracle beginning back in the summer of '54, the editorial staff under the direction of Joyce Rogers, editor-in-chief, and Miss Belle Kaake, adviser, began its work in the fall with the task of choosing a cover and incorporating plans and ideas in anticipation of an all time great in '55.

As the winter months rolled around, the hours of work began to increase with the flood of copy and pictures. Taking pictures, cropping, gluing, and writing copy, captions, and headlines became everyday jobs for staff members. After school and evening hours were many times sacrificed to meet deadlines. The well worn dummy, the notched rulers, the aroma of rubber cement and the many duties performed will long be remembered by the members of the editorial staff.

The fall subscription campaign was successfully launched by the dual co-operation of both business and editorial staffs. The business staff, under the supervision of Mr. Clayton Shulstad and Mr. Edward Hanlon and headed by Sonia Young, assumed the large task of handling the money and making the budget balance.

With pride the '55 staff has now presented the finished product. Along with it comes the hope that you will derive as many hours of pleasure from this book as there were hours of work put into it. If this proves to be true, the Oracle staff will then feel its job was completed successfully.

Gene Bradt, Ann Banovetz, Rodney Anderson, Loretta Wolfe, and Howard Askelson decide upon pictures for the year book.

Forensic Squad Reaches Top

By attaining their goal of top chapter in the Northern Minnesota District of the National Forensic League again this past season, the Denfeld forensic squad placed the finishing touches on a very successful season.

To begin the season, Denfeld sponsored the second annual Speech Clinic at which students from all area schools participated. The competitive season was inaugurated with the fall session of the N.F.L. Student Congress. The Denfeldites won four of the seven individual awards. The spring session, in which only underclassmen participated, was met with equal success.

Two Denfeld speakers, Jane Mularie and James Banovetz, took part in the speech contests at the Concordia and the Gustavus Adolphus Forensic tournaments. The rest of the squad got into action on February 19, in the Coleraine Invitational Speech Tournament. Denfeld served as host to its annual invitational meet on March 12. These meets served as practice as no awards were given.

Entering into more competition on March 26, the Denfeldites took part in the District 26 speech tournament and won eight of the eighteen awards. Denfeld winners were James Banovetz, Jean Erickson, Robert Hanson, Carol Ankarlo, Richard Miller, John Palmquist, Patrick Rooney, and Patricia Scheiderick.

In the N.F.L. tournament on March 17 and 18,

Denfeld finished third with 48 points. Entering all seven events in the contest, Denfeld participants won three first places and one third place. The debate team also finished in a tie for third place.

Winning a superior and a second place in the district's One-Act Play Tournament was Denfeld's version of the play "Cyrano de Bergerac" by Edmund Rostand.

Four Denfeld students took part in the annual "I Speak for Democracy" radio script contest. James Banovetz won first place in the school contest and third in the city.

First and second place on the city level in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Oratorical contest were won by Thomas Stolen and Richard Miller, respectively. Tom went on into the regional contest and won first.

Second place in the district American Legion Oratorical contest was won by Richard Miller.

Making the season's success possible was Denfeld's excellent group of forensic coaches. Miss Audrey Stolen coached the orators and the extemporaneous speakers; Mr. Joseph Dunn guided the dramatics department which included the one-act play, declamation, and pantomimes; Mr. William Currier trained the discussion group and helped the extemporaneous speakers; and Miss Callie Merritt managed the details of sponsoring the speech tournaments held at Denfeld.

Four Trophies Honor Debaters

A collection of four new trophies stands as ample proof of the glory and the honor brought to Denfeld this year by the school's debate team. The trophies are the material rewards obtained from the twelve tournaments in which Denfeldites participated this past year.

The thirty-member squad also profited greatly by increasing their speaking skills under the coaching of Miss Audrey Stolen, who served her initial year as the debate coach.

The first team was composed of Jane Mularie and James Banovetz, affirmative, Donald Parson and Richard Miller, negative. This team won 50 debates and lost only 15 for a 77 per cent average.

The debaters met their first competition on October 23, when five seniors participated in the Eau Claire Discussion tourney. Here they were declared unofficial winners by having the highest average of speaker's points. Richard Miller was one of ten participants to make the all-tournament team.

On November 20, the whole squad swung into action when Denfeld sponsored its annual Kick-off Debate Tournament. In this meet experienced Denfeld debaters teamed up with sophomores, as the meet was held only for practice.

The season's first trophy was won when the affirmative won the Concordia Tri-state meet on December 4.

The affirmative won all five of their debates in this tourney.

In the rest of the tournaments the affirmative and the negative debated as one team. They won their second trophy at the Merrill High School Tournament where they won five of their six debates. It was the first time a Minnesota school won the trophy. James Banovetz was named as an alternate on the all-tournament team.

Denfeld smashed all tournament records at the Carleton Tournament by winning all ten of their debates. It was the first undefeated team in the tourney's history. Besides winning the trophy, two Denfeld speakers won individual honors. James Banovetz and Richard Miller, respectively, won first and second most valuable speaker awards.

The entire squad participated in the Eau Claire tournament on January 8. The other tournaments which Denfeld attended were at St. Cloud, Princeton, Cloquet, and Gustavus Adolphus.

Denfeld came through the Regional tournament on February 1, with an undefeated record of six wins to capture first place and win their fourth trophy.

In the state tourney on February 19, Denfeld placed third as they won five out of their six debates. The team lost the championship debate by one team point and finished one speaker's point behind the second place team.

Speech-Debate Schedule

November 20 Kick off, Duluth Denfeld
 December 4 Concordia College
 December 11 Merrill High School

Cadets Lend a Helping Hand to All

A friendly smile and a helping hand characterize the many cadets at Denfeld. To these cadets goes much of the credit for making the school the proficient organization that it is. These students have daily shown their dependability and outstanding school spirit. Their numerous duties were not tedious, for an interest in office work, art, electricity, or clerical work often entered into the service and gave those student cadets valuable experience.

Checking attendance cards, running errands, and answering telephone calls were only a few of the duties of the office cadets. The girls in the D.S.S.A. provided students with school supplies. Poster making was one of the major undertakings of the Art Service group. Quiet and order in the hall was the aim of our largest group, the hall cadets. The library cadets give their time and talent caring for the books which supplied us with material for reference and enjoyment. The ushers extended their guidance at school performances by passing out programs and escorting patrons to their seats.

Whether it was selling candy at noon, or taking care of the bank, the cadets made valuable contributions to Denfeld in maintaining school life.

The counseling cadets, Tom Bennett, Janet Johnson, Virginia Bodin, and Carol Lilliberg, check the guidance material. This vocational nook of the Denfeld library offers each student a wealth of information on all careers and fields.

During classes the Hall Cadets maintain a serene atmosphere in the halls.

Checking passes and handing out programs help to fill their time.

Musical groups have filled 1955 with song, playing and singing for concerts, assemblies, and around the city. Doing so the A Cappella choir traveled to Minneapolis, and the band and orchestra, to Rice Lake, Wisconsin. The operetta "Sweethearts," by Victor Herbert, could be rated a scintillating performance. Filling the social calendar were the class plays. The Senior Class play, "The Wizard of Oz," headed the drama season. "A Double Barreled Detective Story" was presented as the Junior Class play. Last on the program came the sophomores with their play, "Father Knows Best." Both actors and viewers will long remember these events.

. . . String Group Makes Musical Harmony

Again this year, as in years past, the Denfeld A Cappella Choir, one of Denfeld's busiest organizations, has maintained an active schedule, singing both at school and throughout the city.

During the year, the choir has sung at various civic organizations, such as the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, churches, and schools. Several appearances were also made on school programs including the Thanksgiving and Brotherhood assemblies. Two annual evening concerts were given. The fall concert was presented on November 30, the spring concert, on March 22.

Income from two concerts, plus money raised from candy sales, concession stands, and checking service at Winter Theatre presentations, provided funds for the choir trip to Patrick Henry High School in Minneapolis on May 13.

Another successful year for the choir was brought to a close at the graduation services of Baccalaureate and Commencement. The choir, under the adept leadership of Mr. Edgar G. Felten, consisted of 66 voices.

The Denfeld orchestra has just completed one of its most active years. Besides playing at many school functions, the orchestra has given concerts at West and Lincoln junior high schools. A joint concert with the band was also given at Rice Lake, Wisconsin.

This year the orchestra has played at all the class plays, the Boys' Union Vodvil, Boys' Style Show, and the Girls' Club Operetta. The two main events of the year were the fall and spring concerts. At the fall concert the program ranged from the classical first movement of Mozart's "Jupiter Symphony" to the shorter-haired "Swedish Rhapsody" by Percy Faith. The joint spring concert given on April 25, was preceded by a vigorous ticket selling contest, of which the orchestra was the winner.

Many trios, quartets, and quintets made up of orchestra members have played at banquets and other community programs. Mr. Stanford Martin, the orchestra's able conductor, has also helped these smaller groups and given each student technique lessons.

Band Marks Year Filled With Fun, . . .

Under the expert direction of Mr. Lloyd Swartley, the Denfeld Band has had another successful year packed with fun, hard work, and many rewarding experiences.

One of the band's first activities was marching and working up football shows. Almost every nice day last fall they could be seen practicing in the stadium.

The band participated in the Fall Festival by marching in the parade and selling buttons. They also represented the maroon and gold marching in other parades throughout the year.

Everyone will remember the band's rousing pep songs and stirring marches that helped cheer our teams on to victory at the games and pep assemblies.

Mr. Gerald Glapa, student instructor from U.M.D., gives a few pointers to the brass section.

... Work and Rewarding Experiences

Many long strenuous hours of practicing went into the concerts presented by the band, but it was worth it to know that everyone enjoyed them. Two public concerts were given by the band, one in January and the other in April. The April concert was presented jointly by the band and orchestra and proved very successful.

The band also played concerts at the Lincoln and West Junior high schools.

Always ready with a patient helping hand was Kenneth Whitcomb, woodwind instructor. The band was also fortunate to have with them two Denfeld graduates, Jerry Glapa and Andy Pappas, as student directors from U.M.D.

Band Quintette—Ardyce Peterson, Dorrine McDonald, Janice Wicklund, Lucia Peterson, Jane Mularie.

Richard Miller, band president, leads the group in a rising march.

Majorettes—Patricia Olson, Nancy Gray, Marlene Anderson, Diane Sternal, Nancy Berg (Head), Catherine Nowakowski, Lynn Kuchenbecker, Lennie Pease, Donna Fechner.

High Steppers Parade

The high steppers that marched in front of Denfeld's big brass band in parades and at games were the baton and flag twirlers. They added action and color to many half times with their clever costumes and routines. Their talent was also lent to make many special assemblies complete.

The flag twirlers, with Rosemary Johnson as head, flew the maroon and gold high as they went through their routine, twirling the banners D-E-N-F-E-L-D. Throughout the year they entertained many crowds with their clever handling.

Twirling and strutting seemed to be natural talents for the Majorettes, under the direction of Nancy Berg. These high steppers besides appearing at athletic events and parades, performed in the Vodvil and at many special assemblies. Whether playing the role of Indians, Irish dancers, or straight routines the majorettes always put on a spectacular show of talent.

Rosemary Johnson and Nancy Berg, head twirlers, make plans for a new formation.

Vodvil Rated Tops

Every fall the Boys' Union presents its annual competitive vodvil, consisting of many acts of every type.

This year, the vodvil was presented two evenings, with different judges each evening. The first prize winners in the long division were the "Down Beats" and "Rhapsody in Blue." First in the short division were the "Starlight Trio" and "Notes From Chopin." Second in the short division were "The Haircuts" and "Basso Profundo."

Many organizations and clubs put on acts every year along with a few from other schools and neighboring colleges. This year's vodvil could be marked as outstanding as Robert Nissen, Boys' Union president, humored the crowd as M.C. and many fine acts were presented.

Two of the Down Beats, Gwyn Hultquist and Darrell Paulson, set up equipment for their vodvil act.

Carol Alice Nelson, winner in the short division, makes a pretty picture at the keyboard.

"We're Off to See the Wizard . . .

Darlene Hanson, the Wicked Witch of the West, brews up more trouble.

The Denfeld Senior Class returned to the land of make-believe when, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Dunn, they presented the "Wizard of Oz" as their class play on December 9 and 11.

Dorothy, the principal character, is carried, house and all, from Kansas to the land of Oz where she finds herself and her dog Toto on a Munchkin farm.

In this make-believe land she meets the Scarecrow, Lion, and Tin Woodsman, who travel together in search of the Wizard. While on their journey they encounter the Witch of the North, the Witch of the West, Glinda the Good, and Oz who rules the Emerald City. These five characters seek favors from the Great Wizard. Dorothy wishes to return to Kansas, the scarecrow wants a brain, the cowardly lion wants courage, the tin woodsman wants a heart.

Rodney Andersen, Guardian of Gates, stands at attention in the presence of the Great Wizard of Oz, portrayed by Brian Erikson.

Tin Woodsman (Melvin Drumm), Scarecrow (Ty Bujold), Lion (Lloyd Kuschner), Dorothy (Joanne Flyckt), and Toto (Bruce Erikson), sing, "We're off to see the Wizard."

Glinda the Good, Arlene Rappana, and her two officers, Nancy Berg and Donna Fechner, welcome the guests.

June Peterson, the Good Witch of the North, explains, "Yes, I am a good witch and people love me."

Assistant directors, Donna Nelson and Bruce Johnson, look on as Bruce Bertram applies make-up to Ty Bujold.

... the Wonderful Wizard of Oz

The suspects Dorrine MacDonald (Sadie Smith), Don Wegmiller (Fetlock Jones), Tom Hanson (Arthur Stillman), Bernice Lenroot (Mrs. Stillman) and Judy Gustafson (Mrs. Hogan), are required to sit and listen as Don Parsons (Sherlock Holmes) solve the murder of Flint Buckner. Rudy Rosenquist (Pat Riley) guards the door.

Judy Gustafson (Mrs. Hogan), Rudy Rosenquist (Pat Riley), Pat Eilers (Rosemary Hillyer), Susie Nelson ("Injun" Hattie), and Bill Bellingham (Jacob Fuller) find time to discuss the stranger who has just arrived in town.

Mid-Classmen Present . . .

Mark Twain's "A Double Barrelled Detective Story" was presented by the juniors on April 1.

In 1900, "Archy" Stillman is sent by his mother from New England to Colorado to locate and punish his father's murderer, Jacob Fuller. Meanwhile, Fetlock Jones decides to destroy his cruel employer, Flint Buckner. Just as Flint is killed, Sherlock Holmes arrives on the scene and accuses Sammy, brother of the tavern-owner, of the murder. After an investigation of his own, Archy pins the murder on Fetlock, implicating Sherlock in the killing. The fact that Flint and Jacob Fuller are one and the same is also discovered by Archy.

The play, a combination of mystery, humor, and romance, was excellently directed by Mr. Joseph Dunn and his assistants. The hard-working cast and committees are also to be commended.

Bernice Lenroot (Mrs. Stillman) tells her housemaid, Pat Scheiderick (Nancy Palmer), and her friend June LaRoque (Amanda Sink) who stepped in out of the rain, to leave, while her son Arthur, played by Tom Hanson, stands by.

Pat Eilers (Rosemary Hillyer) and Dorrine MacDonald (Sadie Smith) hover over the unconscious form of Don Wegmiller (Fetlock Jones) as Rudy Rosenquist (Pat Riley) the sheriff, and John Palmquist (Flint Buckner) the ill tempered miner, look on.

"Father Knows Best"

The Sophomore Class completed the drama circle this year on May 19, with their presentation of the three-act comedy, "Father Knows Best," by Kristen Sergel.

The story centers around the home life of the Andersons, a typical American family. Real difficulties set in when father decides to solve the family problems. Betty, his eighteen year old daughter, has succeeded in getting a date with Ralph, a boy in her history class. When Bud, their fifteen year old son, and Kathy, their ten year old daughter, make plans for the evening, father decides everyone should stay at home. Mrs. Anderson faces the problem more realistically but to no avail, as Father is convinced he knows best! As a consequence many hilarious and surprising incidents evolve.

Under the able direction of Mr. Joseph Dunn and his hard-working committee, "Father Knows Best" was a play that will long be remembered.

Posing for a family portrait is the Anderson family, Ann Banovetz (Betty), Jay Williams (Father), Elaine Eng (Mother), Jeanette Pollard (Kathy), and Dick Skogg (Bud).

"Stop, that's enough!" shouts Jay Williams (father) as he interrupts a game of tag between Phyllis Edstrom (Patty) and Jeanette Pollard (Kathy).

"You're coming with me!!!" shouts Ted Johnson (Officer Johnson) to Harold Fox (Ralph Brinkworth) while Rodney Johnson (Mr. Brinkworth) persists. Assisting the officer is Marie O'Leary (Perkins).

"Isn't it lovely!" exclaims the three Garden Club members, Janice Nordgren (Mrs. Wembley), Karen Nilsen (Mrs. Woolsey) and Adrienne Bergquist (Mrs. Jones).

Ronald Welhaven (the repairman) threatens Dick Skogg (Bud) and Lynn Thompson (Bud's friend).

Committee Chairmen—Row 1: Janet Andersen, Janice Bjork, Lois Kratz, Lynn Kuchenbecker, Kathy Busse. Row 2: Doris Dyson, Jo Dean Cosner, Jim Heffernan, Sue Kurkanis, Mickey Puglisi.

Ann Banovetz (Betty) and her two girl friends, Judy DeSanto (Ramona) and Kathy Burns (Janie), relax after a busy day in school.

The finale of act two closes with the last strains of "Sweethearts."

The cast sings "Behold the Prince" in the finale of the first act.

"Sweethearts"

Victor Herbert's operetta "Sweethearts," the second time performed at Denfeld, was given February 24 and 26 with a matinee on the 22nd. Miss Ellen Smith and Mr. Edgar Felten directed the double cast production.

Many committees working with faculty advisors helped to see Sylvia safely out of the Laundry of the White Geese and to her rightful place on the throne of her country.

As a child the princess Sylvia was left in the tulip garden of Dame Paula by Mikel, the minister of state disguised as a monk. Later he came back to seek her out of the six other girls and mistakenly took the wrong adopted daughter. Prince Franz finally brought Sylvia back to her country, and they lived together with the love they had found for each other.

Mr. Stanford Martin and the orchestra provided the music for such hit songs as "Sweethearts" and "Jeanette's Wooden Shoes." The delightful and colorful costumes were the result of many hours of work by the costume committees and their advisers, Mrs. Genevieve Eby, and Miss Bernetta Siepel. The P.T.A. mothers also helped with the costuming. The impressive set designs can be attributed to the work of Mr. John Sloan, Mr. Peter Zimmerman, the stagehands, electricians, and the art and craft classes. This was truly an all-school project that required the time and energy of all Denfeldites.

Liane, Donna Fechner, replies, "That's my hand on it," to assure Karl, Robert Nissen, of a promise.

Sylvia, Joyce Tinker, and Franz, Dale Matchett, sing a song of love.

The sisters sing "The Mother Goose Rhyme" to the Dutch girls.

Paula, Joan Engard, sighs as she irons! irons! irons!

Fay Georgesen, Paula, remarks, "Hang up these clothes and be quick about it."

Brian Erikson, Karl, requests June Peterson, Liane, to join him at the cafe across the way.

Tom Filiatrault, Franz, and Margaret Swanson, Sylvia, sing "Cricket on the Hearth."

"You have simply ruined my plans," says Bruce Erikson as he scolds Robert Christensen, Dennis Pavlatos, and Wilbert Koski.

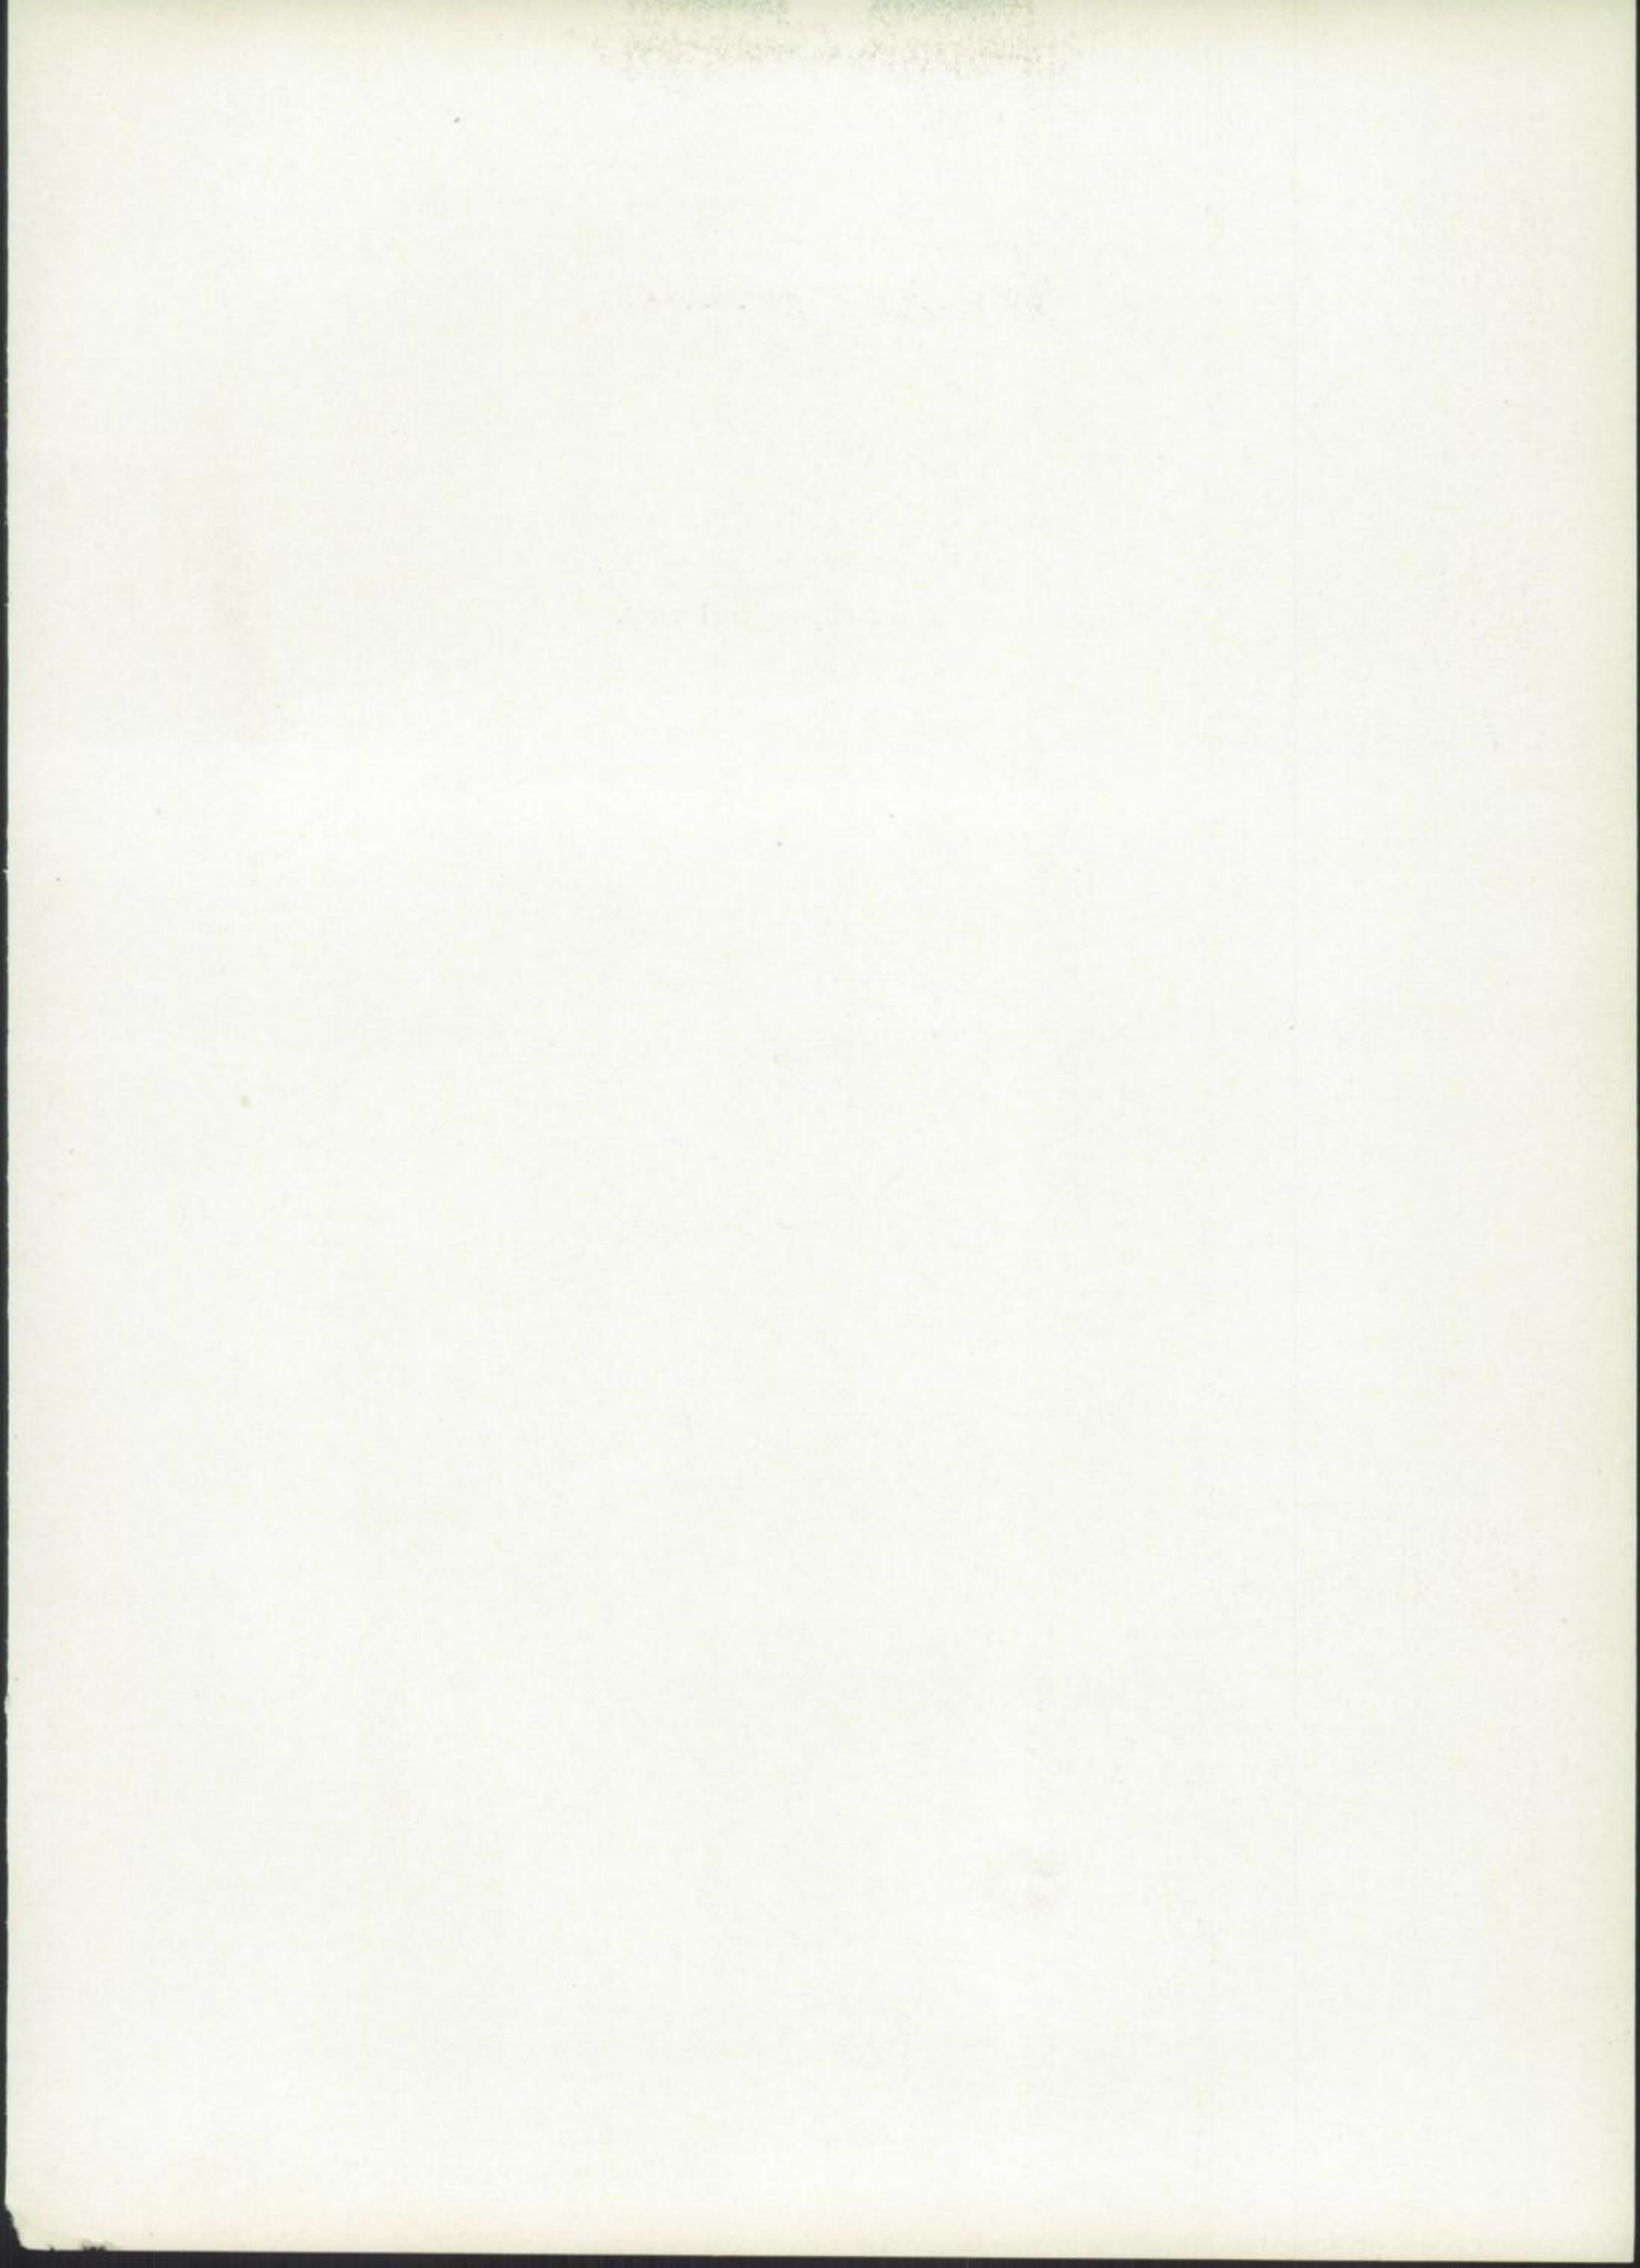

Pat Johnson, Jerome Michaud, Adrian Matson and Alfred Ames plan to make their acquaintances with Sylvia.

Many events of this school year have established themselves as outstanding in our memories. Sport events have held the interest of every student. Last summer was marked by the golf and baseball teams going to state. Football season brought 6 wins and 2 losses and a win over the rival red and white at the biggest game of the year. The basketball season was marked by the team tying with Central for the city title. The hockey team took the city title also, and the track team, the city-regional meet.

Spirit Marks Hunters' Drive

After a slow start, this year's Denfeld Hunters' football team, under the able mentorship of Coach Walter Hunting, moved ahead to become one of the most feared teams in the area.

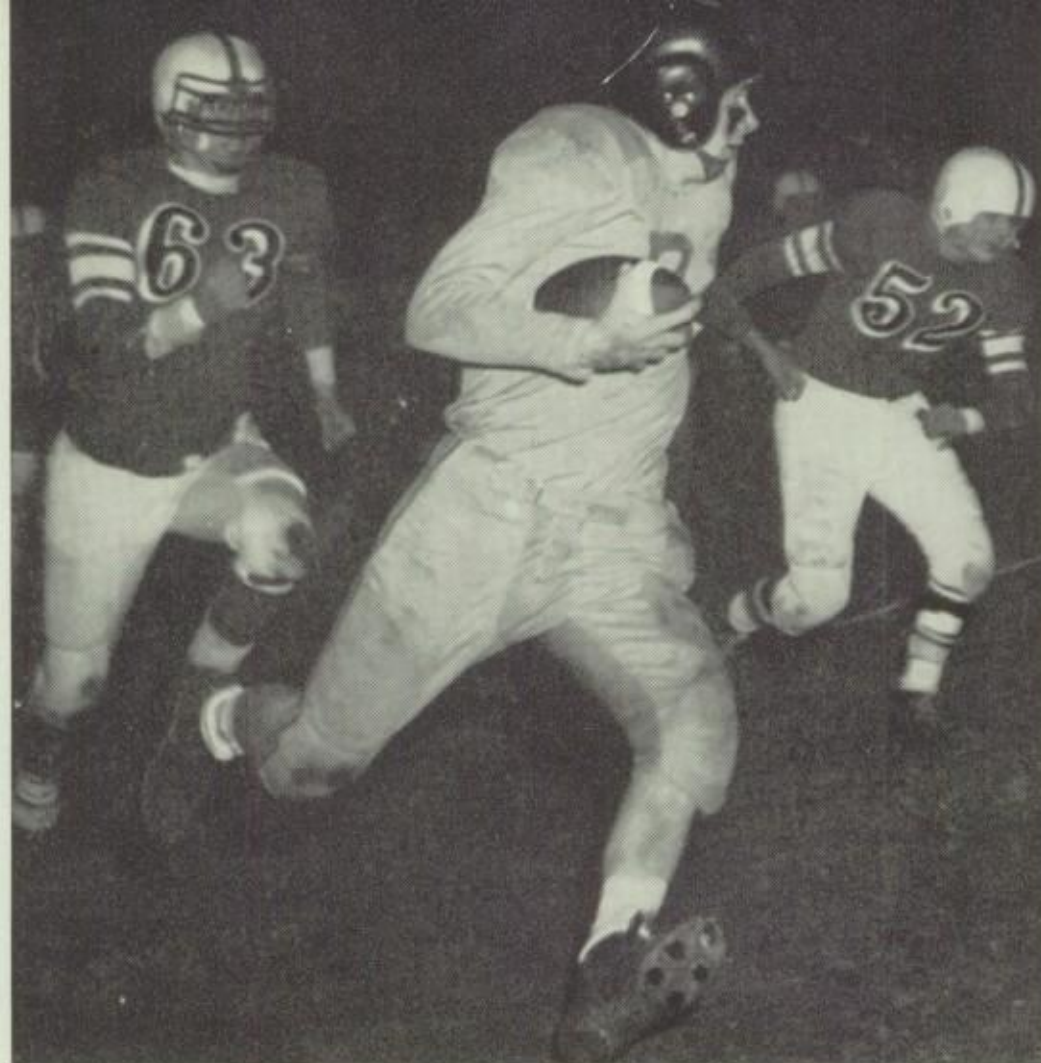

A lucky break gave Ironwood the opening game when Jerry Liston's 56-yard punt return was called back. The run would have given the Hunters a certain tie and possible victory, as the game ended 6-0 in favor of Ironwood.

A determined stand by the Morgan Park Wildcats on their own one-foot line staved off a Denfeld thrust and preserved for them their 7-0 victory. Len Anderson and Don Kenniger played outstandingly for the Hunters as they displayed a well balanced running attack and a solid line but could not push the ball across the goal line.

Jerry Liston, Len Anderson, and Bob Monson all broke into the scoring column as Denfeld downed their annual rivals, Superior Central, 21-13. This game showed marked improvement in the line play.

Denfeld went on a scoring spree at Cloquet as Monson, Liston, and Morris combined for 31 points to Cloquet's 13. Roland Strand earned himself a starting berth by his outstanding work in this game.

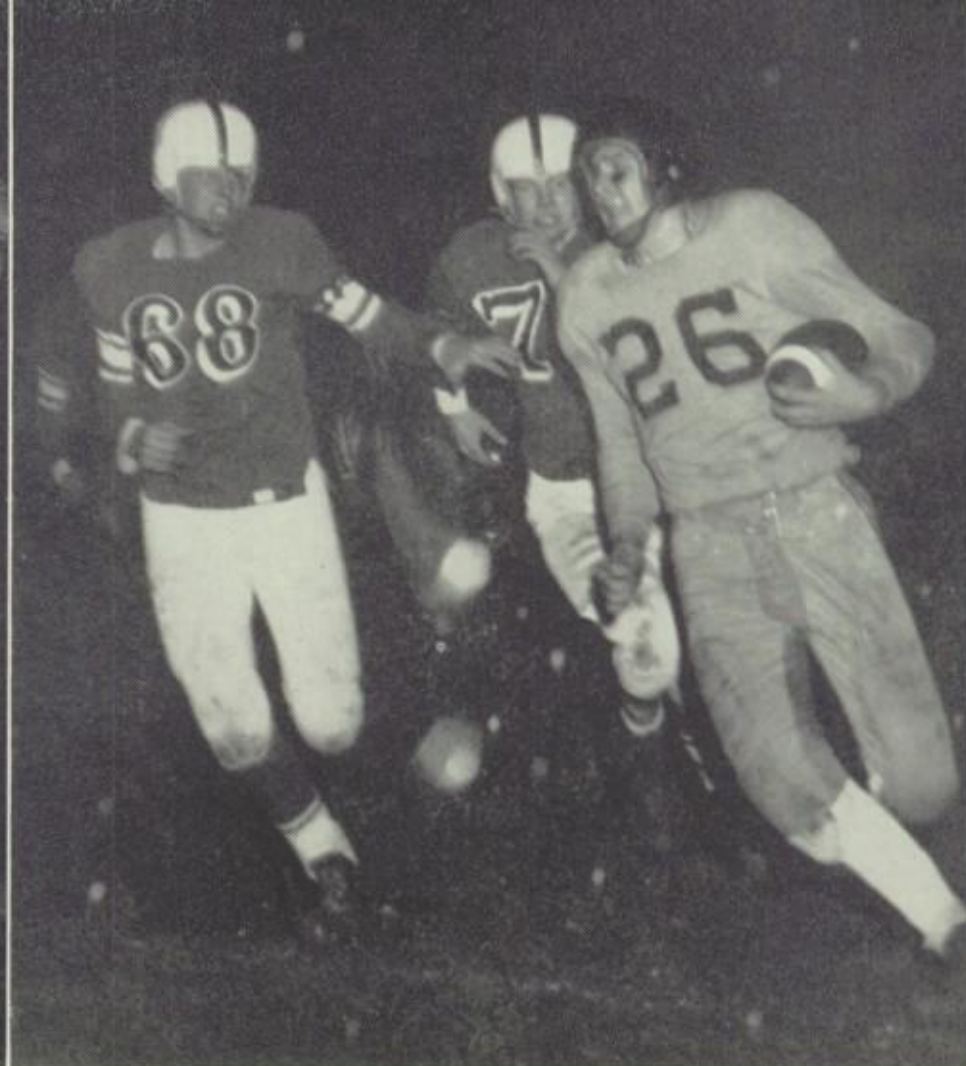

The big upset of the year came when the Hunters rolled to a 32-7 victory over the highly favored Cathedral Hilltoppers. The team finally realized its potential in this game as Jerry Liston scampered for five touchdowns behind the crisp blocking of the line. Don Kenniger and Ray Telega showed the kind of play that won them berths on the All-City squad.

A repetition of last year's score was this year's game with East. Liston scored two of the touchdowns, one on a long pass from Monson. Don Kenniger intercepted an East pass and returned it to the one-yard line to set up the third touchdown. Roland Strand and Gordon Morris smashed off tackle for the final tallies.

And another successful season comes to a close as Capt. Jim West hands in his equipment to Dennis Archambault, Lynn Thompson, and Warren Anderson, managers.

The Hunters had a temporary letdown at Eau Claire the following week but still managed to salvage a victory. Late in the first quarter Roland Strand intercepted an Old Abe pass and streaked 83 yards for what proved to be the winning margin. He scored the other on a 7-yard smash as Denfeld won, 13-0.

The Hunters returned home to reverse last year's score with Central even though Mother Nature took a hand in the battle. Denfeld's lineplay again highlighted the game as they pushed the Trojans down the snow-covered field. Liston and Strand displayed some brilliant running as Jerry scored all fourteen points and Roland gained first downs when they were needed most. The team displayed all-around power and it was a fitting ending to a successful season.

The climax came when six of the Hunters were named to the All-City team. They were Robert Monson, who also was mentioned for All-State honors, Leonard Anderson, Leon Royer, Ray Telega, Don Kenniger, and Jerry Liston who also received the "sports star of the week" award.

Harriers Display Determination

With a nucleus of lettermen, Coach Waldemar Johnson again piloted his cross country team to a respectable standing in the state. They began the season on October 2 at Enger. Eleven schools entered with Denfeld finishing sixth. This proved to be only a warmup meet for their annual clash with Minneapolis North on October 8. Denfeld avenged themselves for last year's defeat, winning handily 24-36. Howard Hakala took first place for Denfeld in this meet.

The next event was the Quadrangular Meet, October 15, at Enger. Denfeld took third in this one, defeating Duluth East.

The regional meet at Grand Rapids, October 23, was the next scheduled contest for the harriers. They took third in a field of seven schools. Clyde Johnson was the first Denfeldite across the finish line this time, finishing eighth for the second time in two years.

The big one, the state meet, was held at Lake Nokomis in Minneapolis, October 29. Thirty-two schools, 204 runners, participated. Denfeld finished ninth. Howard Hakala, this year's fleet-footed co-captain, finished first for the Hunters. He finished twenty-second. Following him in order were Co-captain Clyde Johnson, Ray LaBrosse, Ray Mickolajak, Robert Johnson, Neal Rogers, Ronald Fichtner. With 5 lettermen returning, the prospects look even brighter for next season.

Trackmen Have Banner Year

Work, work, work was the code Coach Frank Puglisi used in conditioning his outstanding track squad of '54, and in order to repeat the success of that year, again in '55. His code paid off in grand style, as the mighty Hunters swept dual meets from East, Proctor, and Grand Rapids. In the city regional, the track highlight of each year, the team compiled such an amazing total of points that it excelled the combined total of points that it excelled the combined total of all the other teams entered.

This year, with lettermen Len Anderson, Ronald Fichtner, Howard Hakala, Maynard Kartvedt, Mickey McClelland, Robert Monson, Gordon Morris, Roy Muscatello, Leon Royer, and Allen Titzke returning, the Hunters look forward to another outstanding year on the cinders. They have already taken meets from Proctor and Grand Rapids, and performed well at Eveleth, Hibbing and Minneapolis.

Returning home, the Denfeld five outfought a scrappy Cathedral team to capture a 74-66 victory. Bob Monson scored 34 points to pace the Hunters.

Displaying a well-balanced scoring attack, the Hunters ran away with the Wildcats from Morgan Park, 80-48.

A 35-point production by Bob Monson led the Denfeld quint to a 66-50 victory over the Cloquet Lumberjacks.

The Proctor Rails, vying for a first place position, offered stiff competition before falling 67-63.

The Central Trojans, seeking revenge for their earlier defeat, stopped the Hunters' winning ways with a close 63-62 verdict.

Bouncing back from their setback, the Ahlbomers downed a tall East five, 65-62.

Next prey to the mighty Hunters was Two Harbors, 69-56, followed by a well-earned 60-56 decision over Cathedral.

Morgan Park avenged their humiliation somewhat by squeezing out a 53-52 victory.

Smarting from their upset, the Hunters went all out against St. Louis Park, the number one team in the state, but could come out only second best, 57-56. Nevertheless, they displayed magnificent teamwork against a team of far superior height.

Handicapped by the loss of starting guard Jon Sampson, the Hunters dropped another close one, this time to Grand Marais, 64-62.

The Denfeld five made a brief return to their winning ways by dropping Cloquet 60-40 before being turned back 67-57 by Superior Central and 57-51 by Duluth East.

Pucksters Cop District Title

Under the expert coaching of Ray Mickolajak, the Hunters opened the 1955 season with a 6-4 victory over their annual rivals, East. The Maroon and Gold then won, of their next 8 games, the 2 losses being suffered at the hands of a strong Eveleth six. Victories over Morgan Park and Central followed, split by a loss to revenge-seeking East in a hard fought 1-0 game.

After easily defeating Morgan Park and Cloquet,

Denfeld met East again in the finals of the District 26 tournament. Denfeld displayed brilliant form and rugged determination to capture this one, 5-2. At Eveleth for the regionals, the Hunters again met their nemesis, Eveleth, who had trouble downing them, 8-5.

It was Eveleth's two-platoon system that finally wore down the Maroon and Gold six.

Forming a stalwart line for the Hunters were Dale Noreen, defense; Terry Burns, wing; Gene Erickson, center; Jim Bocklund, wing; and Roger Olson, goalie.

Hunters State Runners-Up

After compiling a season's record of 7-1, the Hunters coped the city tournament by downing Proctor, 18-0, Central, 14-1, and East, 7-1. Advancing to the Region 7 tournament, they opened a double header by stopping a heavily favored Eveleth nine, 7-1. In the finals, that same day, they met and defeated Buhl, 10-8.

In St. Cloud for the state tourney, Denfeld first defeated a determined Melrose club, 6-4. The next day, they set down the tournament favorites, Edina-Morningside, 3-1. Grabbing an early lead of 2-0 against Austin in the finals, Denfeld played steady ball until with two outs in the last of the ninth, Austin scored three times to win 3-2 and cop the tournament.

Highlight of the season was Gene Erickson's no-hit, no-run game against Two Harbors. Gene, along with Dick Gillen and Ron Johnson, was elected to the All-State team.

The Hunters celebrate at Coach Mickolajak's house after returning from the tournament.

Intramural Champs—Dale Hietala, Donald Kenniger, Ray Telaga, Randolph Malone, Robert Walker.

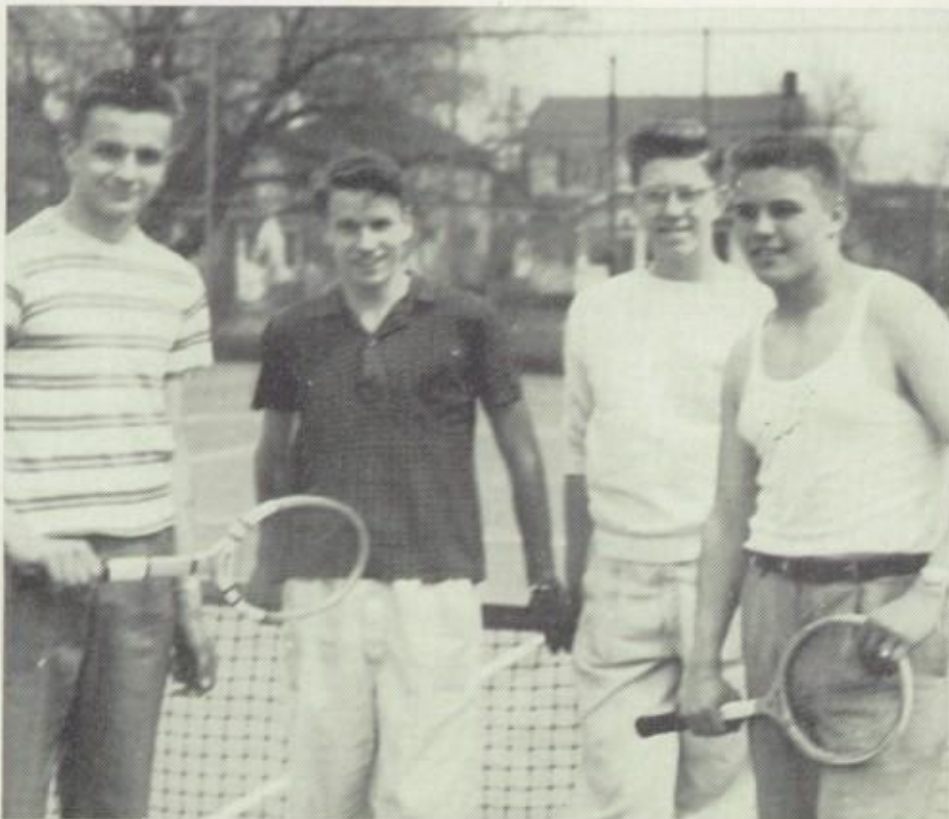

Variety Provides Chance for All

Handicapped by a late starting season, the skiers, nevertheless, went on to display depth and versatility in the three meets in which they competed. Joseph Berini, new to Denfeld, did an excellent job as head mentor. In the first contest, the city meet, Denfeld placed second, just one percentage point behind the East squad. With the help of Harald Brendeford, a Norwegian exchange student who jumped beautifully, Denfeld took third in the district meet. With the improvement that practice brings, the squad placed a strong fifth in the state meet held in Duluth. Experience will make the team stronger in the year forthcoming.

Filling out a banner year, the golf team joined the ski and baseball teams in entering state competition. With Ray Mickolajak as coach they captured city and district to gain admittance to the state tourney. Here they compiled enough points to finish fourth. Three of the veterans will return next year.

Hoping to recreate interest in the sport, the tennis team entered city competition again. Although eliminated in the first round, they hope to promote student interest in the years to come.

David Machaud, Donald Carlson, Bertil Ostlund, and Clifford Erickson make up the tennis team at Denfeld.

State contenders in golf, the team members were Frank Soderquist, Duane Branscombe, Ronald Stocke, and William Patrick.

Sports Present Fun and Friendship for Girls

Girls' sports has taken on a new face this past year with the official title of Girls' Athletic Association or G.A.A. The girls are happier now and enjoy their sports to the fullest.

A breakfast outing at Lester Park opened the season giving the girls a chance to become better acquainted. Swimming and bowling were the first fall activities, followed closely by volleyball. Basketball and individual sports kept the girls busy Thursday evenings throughout the winter months. New emphasis on skiing added weekend pleasure.

Sun Valley Fun Day at Chester Bowl was one of the big events of the year. The G.A.A. played hostess to the Girls' Club, planning a whole day of skiing, hiking, and all sorts of snow fun, as well as good times in the chalet.

The girls traveled to play days at Proctor, Two Harbors, and U.M.D., and were host to Proctor and Athletic Board—Row 1: Ann Lundgren, Sharon Shafer, Gloria Ekstrom, Sally Nyman, Ruth Van Kleek, Carol Cegla. Row 2: Charlene Galli, Karen Skarman, Elenor Berube, Jeanette Capra, Diane Gunderson, June LaRoque. Row 3: Joanne Hink, Barbara Williams, Charlene Samuelson, Faye Skarman, Violet Colich, Mary Hill, Carolee Bedard.

Spring brought us outside again with balls and bats. Getting ready for the tennis tournaments kept us active on the courts at Wheeler almost every day after school. They still found time to enjoy a few rounds of golf at the Enger links, and an occasional picnic.

Both teams play vigorously for the co-recreational volleyball title. Denfeld girls play the alumni in an exciting game of basketball. Char Galli anticipates a home run as catcher Pat Grussendorf and Umpire Carol Cegla await the pitch.

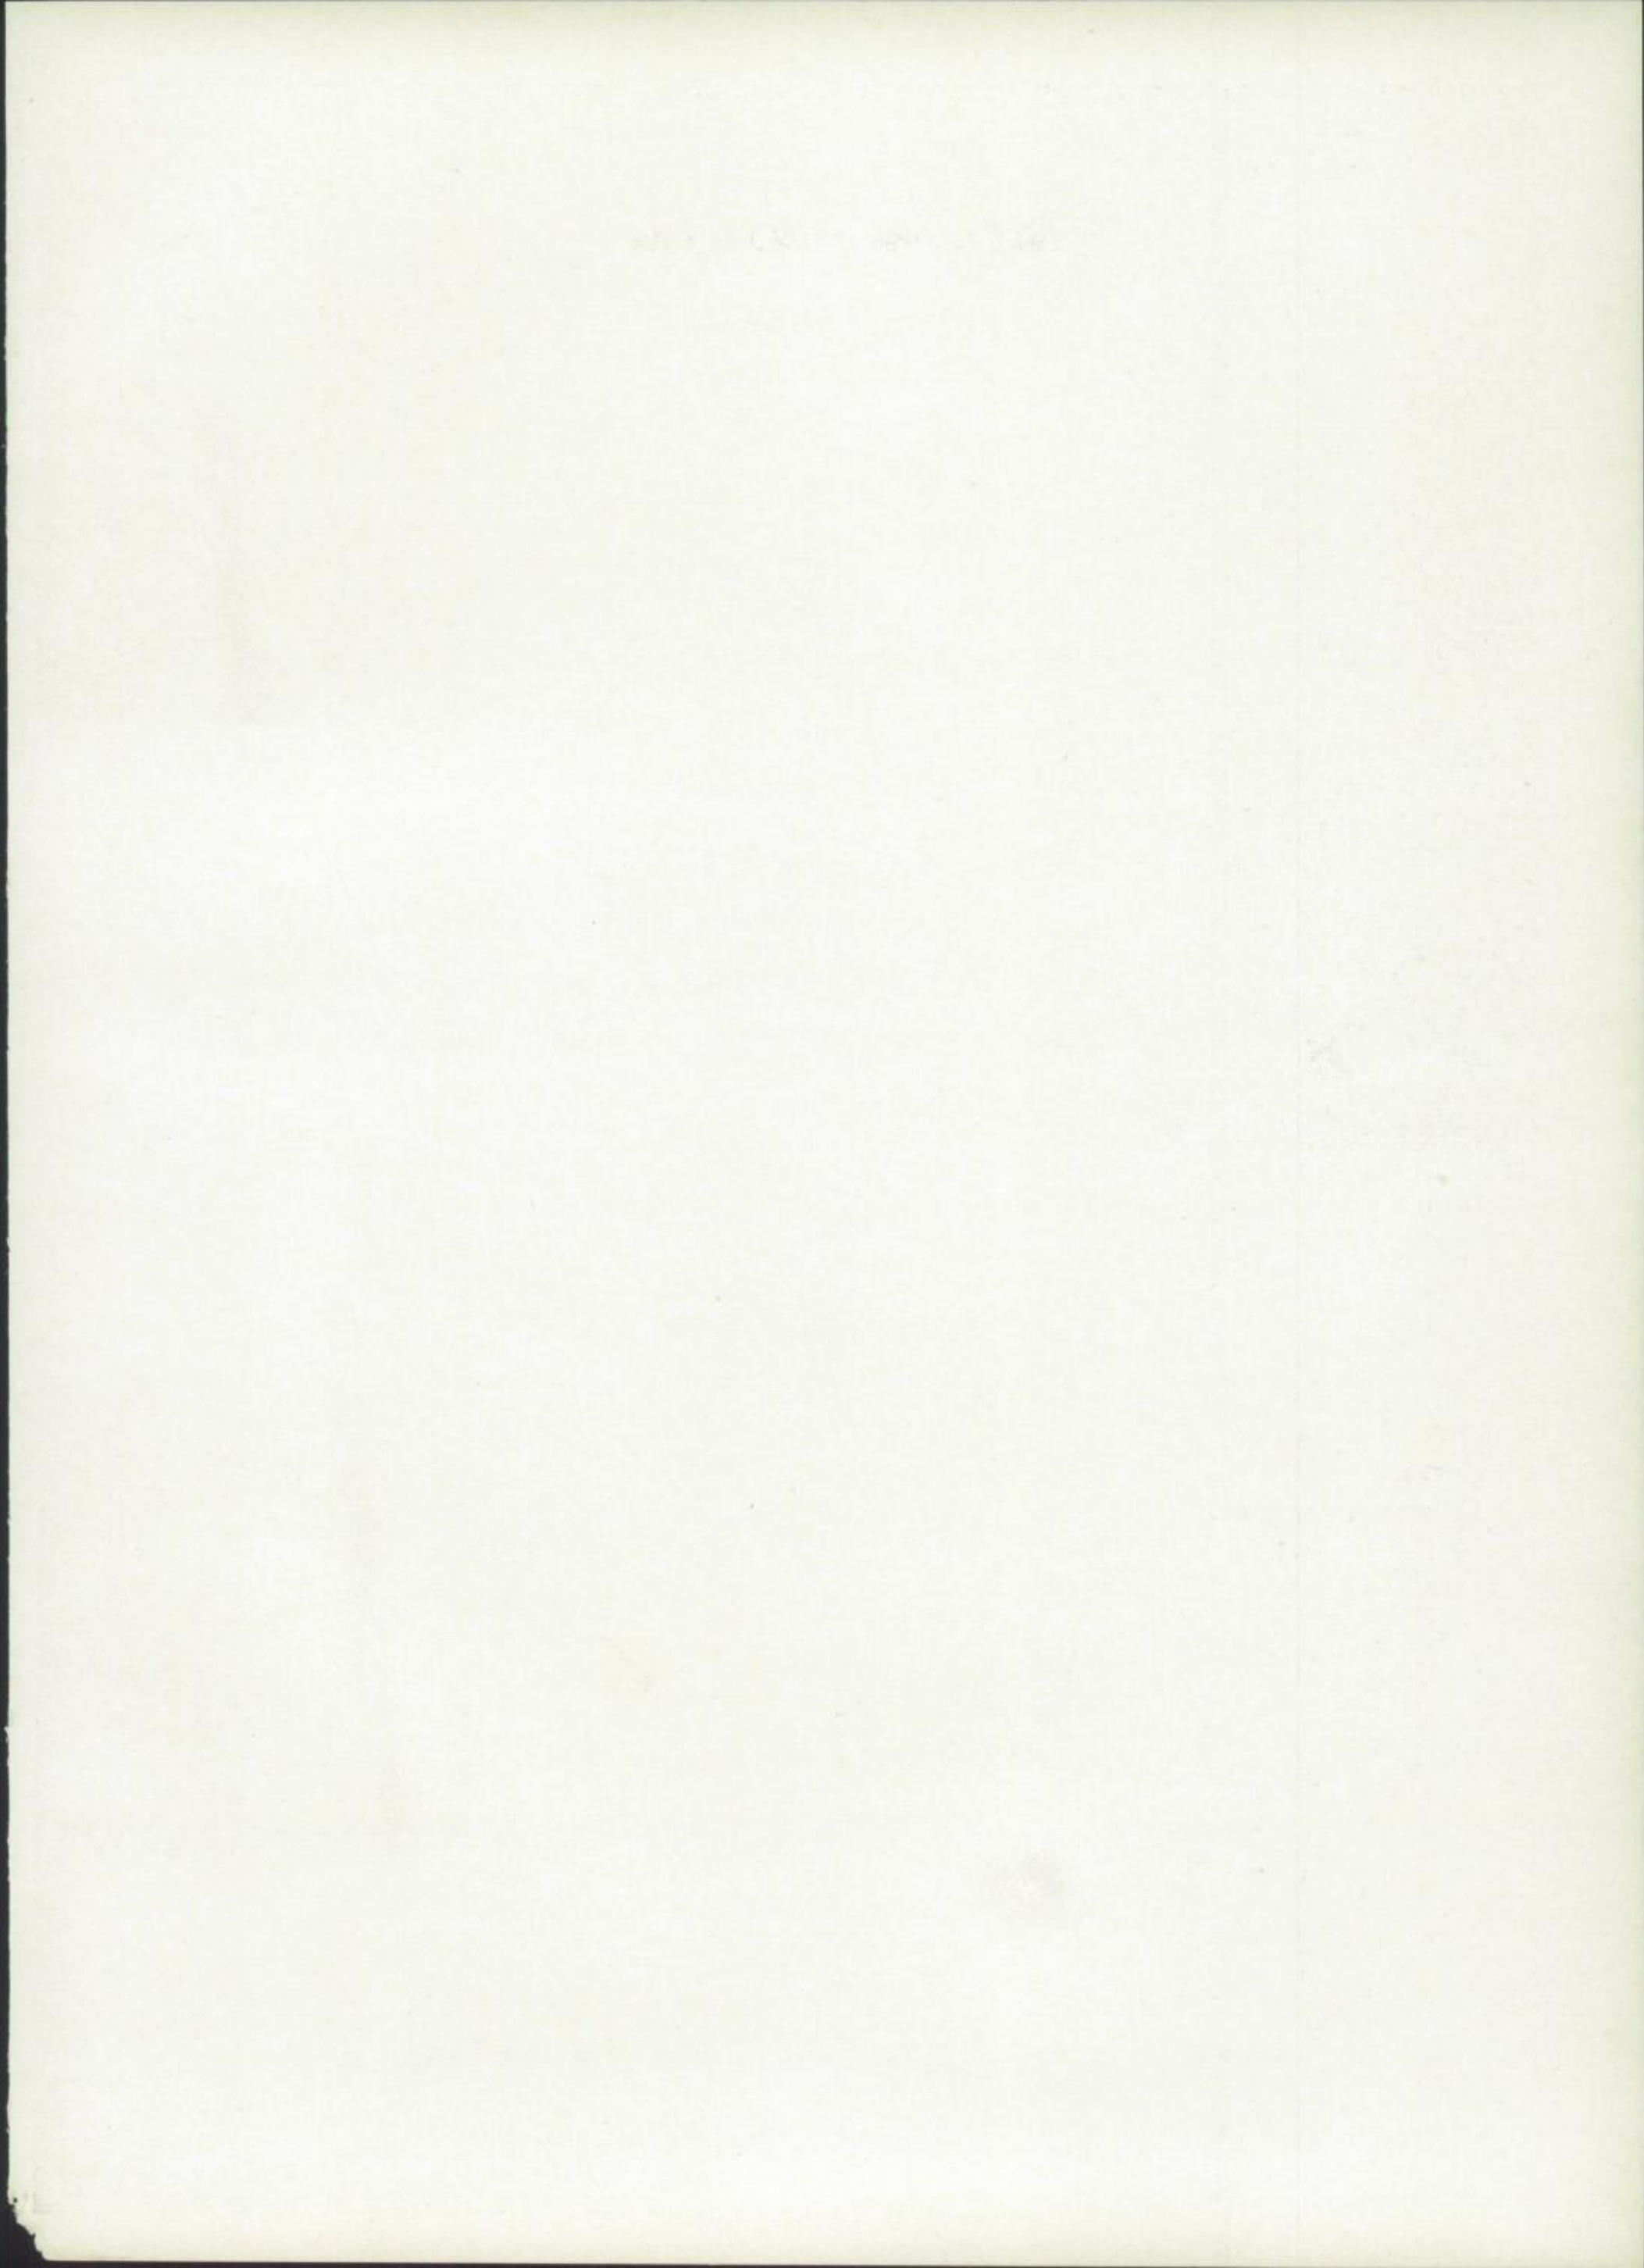

Bowler Diane Gunderson tries hard to make it a luck strike.

Highlighting girls' sports was the second annual Girls' Athletic Banquet. Suspense reigns until next year's athletic board is announced and the award to the season's outstanding girl athlete is given. Faye Skarman was presented the trophy as a recognition for her participation and service to girls' athletics.

Replacing Mrs. Kathleen Sines at mid-year, Mrs. Janet Peterson joined Miss Helen Peterson as girls' physical education instructor. Under their able direction, the girls enthusiastically carried out an active, well-rounded sports program.

Here at Denfeld the school life of 1955 has been comprised of many special activities. Maroon and Gold Day, Kid Day, and the Prom held many exciting moments that now are fond memories. Western Round-Up Day urged the fighting Hunters to "Fence 'Em In" and the pep assemblies cheered the Maroon and Gold on to new victories. Royalty added an impressive touch to Homecoming and Honor Day. There were many happy days this year and events to make it well worthwhile. For the seniors, Student Teacher Day, Dress Up Day and many other events highlighted their last year of high school. A brilliant Honor Day brought to an end this eventful year for everyone. Although the school year is over, memories of the place, the people, and the events of 1955 will long linger.

School Life

Aris Jackson and Lynn Thompson cut a cool rug in the Uncle Jazzbo skit.

It's Denfeld-Central Day

Maroon and Gold Day started with the annual bonfire the evening before. The flames leaped toward the sky as the Denfeld cheerleaders led yells. A pep band of frozen fingered students played school songs and a lively tune for the snake dance.

The halls were decorated by the Power Club, and everything from a maroon and gold clown suit to maroon slacks and gold "D" sweaters was seen throughout the day.

A gaily bedecked auditorium was the greeting for the big pep rally. Many skits were presented with "Skokiaan" taking top honors. The best dressed awards went to two seniors, Patrick Johnson and Adrian Matson. As a surprise to everyone, "This Is Your Life, Mr. Hunting," was presented by the Power Club. Persons from his past were introduced and memories brought back.

During the all important game that evening the snow flakes fell but the Denfeld pep was at its height with everyone yelling the theme, "Smear Central," until the victorious end.

Denfeld Westerners Fence 'em In

"Let's fence 'em in," some 1,100-odd voices roared as the annual Western Round-up Day assembly began with cheers led by colorful Indian cheerleaders. Bronze-skinned Indians, fierce desperadoes out of the old West, and cowboys and girls of every description packed the gym.

"Adventure of the Agate," a television thriller presented by the makers of "Gummie Yummies," the Girls' club, received a prize for being the cleverest skit.

Laughing at the antics of Annie Oakley, alias Adrian Matson, as she charmed the menfolks in the Boys' Union skit, watching the twirlers on the warpath and listening to various musical numbers lent an added gayety to the assembly.

Principal "Dead-eye" Daedo, the deputy sheriff of Death Valley, and Coach Ahlbom, wearing a decorated horseshoe, ruled for the day. Bearded Ed Hengemuehler and cowgirl Marie O'Leary were chosen best dressed "westerners."

The victory over the Two Harbors Agates in the first tournament game the following evening made this Western Round-up Day a day to be remembered for a long time.

Homecoming Highlights

Dancing to the rhythmical music of Mickey Levine and his orchestra and observing the coronation were the highlights of this year's annual Homecoming Dance. Brightly lighted Christmas trees showered with tinsel, provided the setting.

When the band began playing "Winter Wonderland," members of the Power Club Board escorted the king candidates to the throne, promenading through arches of evergreen. Mr. Daedo then announced Bob Monson as king.

On hand to congratulate his majesty and welcome back the alumni were Arlene Thompson and Lon Gobell, last year's queen and king.

Activity Marks Senior Year

Many events and activities have highlighted this year for the seniors of '55. The underclassmen looked on with expectation to the day when they too might join in the frolic.

For the first time a Dress-Up Day was marked by the senior class on March 18. Dressed up in their Sunday finery, everyone looked and acted the part of ladies and gentlemen.

Kid Day, April 22, returned the seniors to their childhood days. With ruffled dresses, short pants, bonnets and teddy bears the upper classmen frolicked on the school lawn.

Dancing at the Junior-Senior Prom, May 6, and dining at the Senior Banquet, May 11, brought an end to the high school social life of the class of '55.

With the coming of June, the seniors put aside their books and pencils, closed the high school doors behind them, and marched forward to take their places in the adult world. Now the carefree high school days are but pleasant memories.

Today will be a happy one,
Our childhood days have just begun;
We will laugh and sing and have some fun,
Kid Day is here again.

Mommy told me to be good,
Be as sweet as little girls could;
But we'd rather not act the way we should—
It's no fun to be that good.

And now we wish the day had stayed;
But our memories will never fade,
Kid Day of '55.

Our Gracious Queen Reigns Over Honor Day

Honor Day on June 3, with its excitement and color, brought to a brilliant climax the year's special assemblies. The seniors in dignified, blue cap and gowns marched down the aisle to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance." A hush fell over the crowd as the honor court, made up of the thirty-three highest ranking seniors, and the queen candidates appeared at the door. Surprised exclamations filled the air as our gracious queen appeared in all her splendor. As she ascended the throne, Mr. G. Dell Daedo escorted her and placed the crown on her head. She began her reign bestowing the coveted Honor D on deserving students.

1955 CLASS SONG

Our high school days are over,
But we shall not forget
Our alma mater, Denfeld,
The many friends we've met.
Much knowledge we have gained here,
And victories we have won.
The name and fame of Denfeld days
Shall ever guide us on.

Dear Tom,

Best of luck always to the best kid in the world. I've had so much fun with you since the first day
I met you that I never want it to end. I don't know why but as I'm writing this I'm crying, maybe you know why. I'm sure our friendship (?) can continue forever if we'll ignore the little fights. (Some of them aren't so little though.) It'll work it out!! O.K.?
I can't think of much more to write except I hope it never ends, because I don't know what I'd do without you.

With all my love,

Sharyn
